NEWMARKET BLOODSTOCK SALES.

NATIONAL STUD YEARLINGS IN DEMAND.

6,500 GUINEAS FOR A SWYNFORD COLT

The yearling sales at the Park Paddocks yesterday morning attracted a large company, and the resulting business was of a thoroughly satisfactory character. High prices were the exception, but the majority of the lots changed hands, and a steady average was maintained throughout, ending in an aggregate of 32,450 guineas for fifty youngsters. The principal attraction consisted of the second draft from the National Stud. There was brisk bidding for the colt by Swynford out of Blanche, and Mr. George Lambton eventually secured him for 6,500 guineas. A colt by Son-in-Law out of Cinderella was also in keen demand, and Sir Abe Bailey had to go to 5,000 guineas for him. The Irish breeder, Mr. E. Bellaney, gave 1,200 guineas for a chestnut twin filly by Swynford out of White Lie (dam of False Alarm and Poisoned Arrow), and with the five lots realising 13,810 guineas, the excellent average of 2,760 guineas was recorded. SWIMMING.

THE HIGH SCHOOL S.C. GALA.

The attendance at the High School Gala at the Iveagh Baths yesterday afternoon was very large, and a lengthy programme was got through in very efficient fashion. Good entries for each event were the rule, and some fine racing was enjoyed by the spectators. The principal event, the 100 Yards Championship, was won by P. Ewen in 75 secs. from W. Prescott. A water polo match between Wesley College and the High School resulted in an easy victory for the High School team. Details:—

MOUNTJOY SCHOOL GALA.

Another large crowd assembled at Iveagh Baths last night for the Mountjoy School Gala, when a further fine programme of swimming and water polo events was submitted. An important item on the programme was, of course, the replayed final of the Leinster Junior Cup. The game produced a very exciting encounter, in which the young Clontarf team, playing brilliantly in the second half, won in thorough fashion by five goals to two. R. N. Case, a son of H. F. Case, the noted water polo player and distance champion, won the 100 yards championship of the school in fine style, W. M. Anderson being second. A well-selected musical programme by Mr. Clarke-Barry's band added considerably to the enjoyment of the numerous visitors. Details—

Beginners' Race (Club).—First Heat—R. Stuart, 1; H. Oakes, 2. Time—23 secs. Second Heat—P. Cullen, 1; G. McNeill, 2. Time—21 secs. Final—Cullen, 1; Stuart, 2; McNeill, 3. Time—20 secs.

44 Yards Handicap (under 15) (Club).—J. G. Crawford (3), 1; A. Bennett (2), 2. Time—48 secs.

100 Yards School Championship.—R. N. Case, 1; W. M. Anderson, 2; M. Spencer, 3. Time—81 secs.

44 Yards Breast and Back Race (Club).—First Heat—R. N. Case, 1; J. H. Smith, 2. Time—42 secs. Second Heat—R. H. Sheppard, 1; E. Butler, 2. Time—50 secs. Final—Case, 1; Smith, 2. Time—42 1-5 secs.

66 Yards Boys' Handicap (Open).—First Heat—I. Barry (18), 1; C. Dowds (16), 2. Time—57 secs. Second Heat—J. Sisk (12), 1; A. Dowds (11) and D. Healy (13), dead-heat, 2. Time—54 2-5 secs. Third Heat—C. Walsh (8), 1; J. B. Mulally (8), 2. Time—47 1-5 secs. Fourth Heat—P. Morgan (6), 1; T. Sheridan (8) and — O'Byrne (6), dead-heat, 2. Time—47 secs. Final—J. B. Mulally, 1; C. Dowds, 2; P. Morgan, 3. Time—47 3-5 secs.

88 Yards Club Handicap.—H. Judge (27), 1; J. H. Smith (21), 2; S. Anderson (25), 3. Time—86 secs.

88 Yards Handicap (Open).—First Heat—E. Devitt (18), 1; W. Davenport (26), 2. Time—73 secs. Second Heat—N. Judd (8), 1; W. Maguire (9), 2. Time—60 2-5 secs. Third Heat—C. V. Brewster (6), 1; J. Quinn (6), 2. Time—63 2-5 secs. Final—Judd, 1; Devitt, 2; Brewster, 3. Time—60 secs.

Diving Championship (Club).—J. Page, 1; M. Anderson, 2; W. Arthurs, 3.

Inter-Club Squadron Race.—Won by Senior A 1.

Egg and Spoon Race.—Won by A. Anderson.

Water Polo—Leinster Schools' Cup, second round—Belvedere received a walk-over in this competition.

Leinster Junior Cup, replayed final—Teams:—Clontarf—T. P. Walsh; A. Barrett, and H. Henley; E. A. Roche (capt.); O'S. Roche, P. J. Lavery and A. P. Healy. Dublin—H. M. Dockrell; B. Kay and W. H. Sexton; J. L. J. Hughes; A. D. Egan (capt.); K. C. Doyle and J. Studdert. Referee—Mr. H. G. Ellerker. Clontarf defended the deep end, but were early on the attack, and were clearly the superior and cleverer combination. Smart play by A. Barrett resulted in O'S. Roche beating Dockrell for the lead, amidst great applause. Dublin were in the ascendancy for a spell, through Dr. Sexton, and from a pass by him Doyle deflected the ball through for the equaliser. Lavery almost immediately scored a grand goal, to put Clontarf in front. Clontarf were the better to the interval, but near the short whistle Doyle equalised somewhat fortunately. Clontarf dominated the play in the second half, Dublin being seldom dangerous. A. Barrett swam right through, to score the third, and shortly afterwards O'S. Roche added the fourth. One of the Dublin players was ordered out and Barrett, receiving unmarked, a clever pass from O'S. Roche, scored the fifth. Result:—Clontarf 2nd, 5 goals; Dublin 2nd, 2 goals.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY S.C. GALA.

Numerous entries have been received for the Open 88 Yards Handicap, at the above Gala this evening. The programme will also contain the 100 Yards College Championship, the Irish Cup match between Dublin University and Clontarf, and an Invitation Squadron Race.

NATIONAL ARMY ATHLETICS.

The National Army Athletic Association deserves praise for the manner in which it has dealt with a very heavy fixture list during 1925. The season is fast drawing to a close, and the only important games to be decided are the All Army Football and Hurling Championships, to be decided at Croke Park on 11th inst; the Chaplains' and Medical Services' Cups; the finals of the G.H.Q. Command Championships, hurling and football, and the replay of the G.H.Q. League Hurling Final, which takes place on next Sunday at Newbridge between G.H.Q. and Artillery Corps. It will thus be seen that, particularly in the Dublin area, a very tedious process of elimination had to be gone through before the final stages of these competitions were reached. In all probability, these fixtures will have been decided before the end of the present month.

Eastern Command, who disposed of Southern Command in both hurling and football, and G.H.Q. Command, who won over Curragh Command in both games, are this year's finalists. In connection with the Hurling League final between G.H.Q. and Artillery on Sunday next, at Newbridge, the Command Council have decided to run off the Football Championship also between the same clubs.

HURLING.

GARDA SIOTCHANA v. EASTERN COMMAND.—As a "try out" preparatory to the All Army final, Eastern Command met Garda Siotchana last evening at the Guards' ground in hurling. Result:—

Garda Siotchana ..... 5 goals 3 points.
Eastern Command ... 4 goals 3 points.

For the winners, Ryan, Tobin, Phelan, Burnett, Dunphy, and Matthew Power were best, and for the Eastern Command Higgins, Kinnearney, Barry, Hennessy, and Martin Power.

FOOTBALL.

Remounts (McKee Barracks) played a challenge football match with the Police Corps, and won a spirited game on the score:—

Remounts .... 3 goals 2 points.
Police Corps .... 2 goals 1 point.

For the winners, O'Shea, Regan, Devlin, and M'Donnell were best, the latter giving a very good display between the posts. The losers were best served by Hanlon, Steadman, Kelly, and Mahon.

CHESS.

Yesterday's play in the Irish tourneys had three periods. In the morning Mr. Orr met Professor Thrift and adopted the Ruy Lopez opening. A game of concentrated energy on both sides followed, in the attempt to find advantage, but no flaw occurred on either side, and after forty-two moves a draw was agreed upon. The adjourned game between Professor Thrift and Mr. O'Hanlon again absorbed attention. The former player offered a beautifully conceived sacrifice of a knight for a pawn, which Mr. O'Hanlon declined, but in so doing got into difficulties, from which he never afterwards recovered. Professor Thrift had thus the singular merit of drawing with one Ulster player and winning from the other on the same day.

At the evening period, in spite of the strain involved in this experience, our only legislator who can take rank as a chess player entered the lists again. The championship game between Messrs. Doyle and Creevey was once more adjourned, and no balance of advantage is so far visible.

The major tourney games were uneventful, except that between Messrs. Varian and Hobson, which occupied sixty-two moves and looked at one time like a victory for the former. Mr. Brett beat Mr. Kerney in the morning and lost in the evening to Mr. Reynolds. Mr. Wallace pursued his triumphant career by winning from Mr. Kerney.

The championship games of the closing period were all in the balance when closing time came. Messrs. Thrift and Cranston agreed to draw their game, while those between Messrs. Baker and O'Hanlon, and Messrs. Gerrard and Doyle are adjourned. The result of this event is now more open than it appeared to be from the beginning.

By her victory at Newmarket yesterday Mafoota has incurred a 7lb. penalty for the Duke of York Handicap, making her weight 6st. 13lb.

DENMARK IN DUBLIN

Everybody admires the work of the Danes. They have set many headlines for Europe in the matter of handling foodstuffs. Certainly cleanliness is not their least virtue. Perhaps we could do with more of it at this side. However, for the past 12 months we have had the privilege of serving an ever-increasing clientele with what we believe to be the cleanest, richest and purest milk ever offered the Dublin public. It is thoroughly strained of every impurity, and served in hermetically-sealed bottles, which is, of course, the only clean way of handling milk. Are you on our list?

SON OF ROYAL SHOW CHAMPION FOR BRAZIL.

Mr. Walter B. Robinson, of Brigg, Lincs., has recently shipped the yearling British Friesian bull Brigg Ari-Gen to Brazil, where the breed is becoming popular. This bull is out of Mr. Robinson's noted 2,000 gallon cow, Felhampton Ariadne, that won first and champion prizes in the Milking Trials open to all breeds at the Royal Show of 1924. Brigg Ari-Gen was sired by Mr. Robinson's late stock bull, Marsh (imported) Generaal, that has four 2,000 gallon daughters.

COUNTY WEXFORD AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE.

At a meeting of the Wexford Joint Technical and Agricultural Committee, Col. C. M. Gibbon, M.C.C. (Chairman), presiding, Mr. M. J. Whelan, the Department's Inspector, submitted particulars of premiums under various headings for the coming year. Under the scheme for agriculture they had allowed £530, which provided for salaries, locomotion expenses and local demonstrations. The amount represented a sum £15 less than what was allowed last year. They allowed winter agricultural classes £25, the same as last year. For bee-keeping the amount was £493, as compared with £500 last year. Instruction in poultry-keeping £292, the same as last year. Poultry stations £242, as against £252 last year. Butter making £233, same as last year. Live stock £685 for cattle and £185 for pigs, making a total of £870 as compared with £1,020 last year. Prizes for baby beef scheme £25. Administration expenses £342, as compared with £367 last year.

BRITISH FRIESIAN NOTES.

The British Friesian breed has supplied the cow that won the Open Milking Trials at the Royal Show for three years in succession.

Irish Farming Review

MILK RECORDED COWS AT GOREY.

TWO FARMING POLICIES.

Whether the recent lively—not to say agitated—correspondence in the Irish Times on tillage farming will lead the nation to demand from the Government a policy either compelling or attracting farmers to increase their crop acreage still seems to be in doubt; but one fact emerges clearly from the clash of opinion—farming cannot be regarded as a wholly homogeneous industry, or farmers as a class homogeneous in opinion. Even apart from the lines of cleavage which appear when the plea for an extension of tillage is met by a dogmatic assertion that, under present conditions, no subsidy which a Government could induce the taxpayer to provide would induce farmers whose land is unsuited for intensive farming to put the necessary twenty acres—or whatever addition to one-eighth of the holding may be accepted as the minimum—into arable cultivation, there is further division amongst cereal growers as to the relative values in mixed farming of oats or barley where the land seems suited to either.

Complex Problems

This, again, is only a factor in a problem of considerable complexity, which may turn ultimately on incalculable questions concerning the future prices of live stock, whose feed must be provided whether they are to sell at a loss, as cattle are doing to-day in many places, or at a good price, like pigs in the district from which we write. There is much talk of average holdings and average costings, but because both are rather better known to agricultural theory than to farming practice we await any one policy which Irish farmers will agree upon.

One result of this inevitable difficulty is to be seen in the tendency—usually most marked in those who are not actually themselves engaged in farming—to deny the force of the arguments directed against whatever policy is for the moment being advocated. A tillage-at-any-price party and an anti-tillage party would almost persuade the public, the one that agricultural salvation demands either protection or bonus or both—and hang the expense!—the other that, really after all, tillage, except in very moderate quantities, must be considered impossible! Nor does the controversy end there, for each party to it seems satisfied that all the facts are known, and proceeds to exploit that fraction of them which it mistakes for the whole, to its own satisfaction. Meanwhile, as a result of this one-sided form of arguing, one can see cutting across this controversy two types of policy, neither exactly formulated, but each tending definitely to treat Irish farming by a method of its own. Each of them is like doctoring, in that it aims at making its patient, Irish farming, healthy, and each is empirical, like the science of medicine. And perhaps the analogy might be carried farther in that one method aims at building up the body whilst the other would apply the drastic methods of surgery. Let us consider each.

Eggs

The policy of the present Minister of Agriculture, which we believe has behind it the support of the electorate, starts from existing conditions and endeavours to improve them. A very simply-worded advertisement in the Irish Times has been calling the attention of poultry farmers and others to the fact that exporters of eggs must tranship their produce out of registered premises in standard packages under regulations issued by the Department of Agriculture, in accordance with the Agricultural Produce (Eggs) Act. It is the belief of the Ministry that, by stopping the export of dirty or doubtful eggs, and so transhipping them as that they will reach Great Britain sound and attractive-looking, the Saorstat will increase the value of its export. A similar policy is to be put into operation shortly in respect of butter. That is what we mean by an empirical policy "building up" the industry to which it relates. It makes few or no assumptions, but finding that our egg and butter businesses are potentially as important as our live stock business, but that, if not actually languishing, they are not nearly one hundred per cent. efficient, the policy takes these things as it finds them, and, working from the known to the unknown, proceeds to give an impetus in the direction in which the speeding up of efficiency is required. Beside this modest, and, perhaps, necessarily gradual policy of improvement, competing with it perhaps for public favour, is the more daring policy advocated by all, who, realising speed as an element in reform, would immediately apply radical methods, altering the basis of farming as we follow it to-day. Grow beet and make sugar, grow cereals and employ labour, "protect" your farming, subsidise your tillage; these are the methods by which they propose to extirpate the bullocks, or, at least, to decimate them.

Co-operation Needed

Now there will be no question, we think, that, whether this second policy be sound or not, the discussion of it is all to the good, so long as the nation is not asked to take a leap in the dark. Further, it is clear that, whilst we are debating this second policy, we cannot merely leave things as they are. We must work arduously, the farmers and the Department together, to put into immediate effect the modest constructive programme of doing better—what we are actually engaged in doing now. Even if, later on, "compulsion"—a "major" operation—should prove necessary, or such a "minor" operation as the attractive force of a bonus for tillage, we must continue to do what we can now to improve the constitution of the patient. But, so far, we have heard no diagnosis which convinces us that only heroic treatment will avail for cure. We realise acutely that the time element in the situation is important, but we should like, before any operation is attempted, to be sure that its results can be foreseen. Do we really know how £3 an acre, given on every arable acre in excess of 12½ per cent., is going to affect the national income in, say, three years? Or in ten? If we know the direction of the change, can we forecast the amount of it? Even approximately? Are we in a position to see that if the £3 is paid the outlay will be scientifically (which in agriculture must be made to mean practically) applied? And can we do this with the good-will of the farmer, inducing him to plant this crop where now he likes to plant that, to alter his rotation or substitute one root crop for another? Or, to touch a "root" problem of a different order: Have we now available all the knowledge needed for any big "change over," or do we not need, even at the risk of losing time, a survey of the whole situation, with adequate practical and scientific knowledge behind it?

Soil and Plant Wealth.

A botanist of European reputation once expressed the view to the writer that there is nothing so badly needed in Ireland, or any mainly agricultural country, as a map in which the relation of the soil to the known habits and aptitudes of the cereals, grasses and trees native to the district was plainly and amply indicated. Have we all the data for such an investigation of our soil and plant wealth as will prove the economic nature of a great tillage campaign? Or is the proposal based only on the pious hope, which all would wish to share if given satisfactory evidence, that if you drive out the bullock his exit will inevitably be followed by the entrance of an increasing race of active and prosperous tillers of the soil?

FEEDING THE BACON PIG.

Success in the economical production of good bacon pigs turns upon the three cardinal factors of breeding, management and feeding. For the purposes of the feeder, a good pig will be one that possesses such a conformation that in the final product the more valuable parts of the carcass are well-developed and the inferior parts kept down to a small proportion. More than this, the good pig will possess an inherited tendency to quick growth from a minimum quantity of food.

First, then, we must start with a good pig, so bred as to be capable of rapid growth and of the right type required by the bacon curer. Management comes next in order of importance. Feeding is an important part of management, but by no means the whole. It is essential that the pig shall be kept in good health and always with a keen edge to his appetite when meal-times come round. The various arts whereby these ends are secured represent the technical equipment of the good pig-man, and can only be acquired by practical experience.

Assuming that we have a good pig and the necessary practical experience in management, what are the special points connected with feeding upon which we must concentrate attention?

Quantity of Food.

First, as to the quantity of food. It is almost certainly bad economy, and often indeed risky, to give a pig as much food as he will eat. The better practice is to have definite meal-times, at each of which he receives all he will eat, and at just long enough intervals to ensure a keen appetite for each meal. With the sty-fed pig, this will usually mean three, or at most four, meals daily when the animal is small, two, or at most three, meals when he is half-grown, and two full meals daily in the later stages. The pig running out on grass or green food, will naturally take less trough food and need not be fed so often in the earlier stages. Taking the case of the sty-fed pig receiving only a slop of meals and water, he will, if fed as suggested, consume 1½ to 2 lb. of meal per day at 8 weeks old, when he will usually weigh round about 30lb., and, as he grows, his appetite will steadily rise until, at 30 weeks old, weighing, say, about 220lb., he will consume 7½lb. to 8lb. of meal per day.

If separated milk, whey or potatoes are available, the consumption of meals will be reduced by using these, the saving usually amounting to 1lb. of meal for about 6lb. of separated milk, or 12lb. of whey, or 4lb. of potatoes.

But more important than the quantity of food is the kind of food. Here the first point to keep in mind is that the pig possesses only a comparatively small digestive apparatus and is poorly equipped for dealing with tough fibrous material. From this, it follows that bulky, fibrous foods like grass, silage, brewers' grains, etc., can only play a modest part in the ration of the pig, and except perhaps for a small allowance of greenstuffs, such foods are probably best left out of the ration. Even oats as a rule do not give very satisfactory results owing to their fibrous husk.

Present-Day Demand.

The next point to remember is that the present-day demand is mostly for a pig that kills between about 160 and 210lbs., which means a pig that is by no means full-grown. Hence for a part, if not for the whole, of the feeding period we have to grow and fatten the pig at the same time. Now to secure satisfactory growth, as distinct from fattening, it is essential that the food shall contain adequate quantities of two particular kinds of ingredients—namely, proteins and mineral matters—proteins for the development of the muscular tissues, and minerals for the growing of bone. Meat meal, fish meal, pea meal, or milk in the ration will give the richer protein mixtures for the younger pigs, to be replaced steadily as time goes on by starchy foods like barley or maize meals.

The minerals must also be adequate in quantity and suitable in kind. Probably the mineral element most commonly deficient in pig rations is lime. In this connection, the feeder should remember that all cereal foods such as barley, maize, wheat, oats, milling offals and maize products are poor in lime, so that if the ration consists entirely of this kind of food it is certainly desirable to give an addition of lime in some form. Foods which tend to improve the ration in this respect are beans and peas, but even better are milk, fish meal, and meat and bone meal. It is also practicable to give the extra lime in the form of finely-ground carbonate of lime or chalk, or as steamed bone flour of good quality. If these substances are used, a suitable quantity will usually be about ¼oz. to ½oz. per day, according to the size of the pig.

A further point that should receive the attention of the feeder is the possible influence of the food on the quality of the bacon. It is commonly agreed that the ingredient of the food which most requires attention in this respect is the oil, and it is probably desirable to keep the oil-content of the mixed meals down to two or three per cent. Foods which most frequently give rise to trouble in this respect are maize meal, rice meal, and fish meal, the last-named having the added disadvantage that, if used excessively, it is liable to impart a fishy taint to the bacon besides lowering its general quality.

Safest Food.

The safest food to use in liberal proportions is undoubtedly sharps of good quality, and the average feeder will be well advised always to include a good proportion of it in the rations on which he starts his young pigs. He will also be well advised always to include one of the animal foods, such as milk, fish meal, or meat and bone meal in moderate proportions in the rations of young pigs, reducing the proportions of these foods steadily as the pig grows.

As an example of the kinds of ration we should consider suitable for the 8-12-week-old pig, we might suggest a mixture of 10-15 per cent. of good white fish meal (or meat and bone meal), 40 per cent. of good sharps, and 50 to 55 per cent. of barley meal. Then, as the pig grows, the proportion of fish meal and sharps should be steadily reduced and the barley meal fraction of the diet correspondingly increased until, by the time the pig weighs 220lb., or thereabouts, the fish meal is entirely eliminated and the sharps reduced to about 20 per cent. It is essential throughout that the digestive process shall work normally, as indicated by the nature of the droppings, and if at any stage there be signs of constipation this must be dealt with at once, and can usually be remedied by the inclusion of about 10 per cent. of bran in the ration.

FRIESIAN EXPORT TRADE.

The British Friesians that have been exported to Ceylon by Messrs. W. and R. Wallace, of Knebworth, have given great satisfaction. When used on the native cattle the British Friesian bull produces animals that meet with local requirements as being valuable for milk, beef and transport purposes. Enquiries for further males and for heifers have been received, and there are prospects of a steady and increasing business.

POULTRY ON THE FARM.

WHAT CAN BE DONE.

The value of poultry on the land has been greatly overlooked. Considerable evidence is available of their use in the destruction of insect pests. The wire worm, probably the greatest insect enemy with which the farmer has to contend, is one of the many pests which poultry will devour greedily. Fowls will follow the plough seeking these and other harmful insects, and will range the meadows and arable land at all seasons to secure food of this nature. In the course of their wanderings over the land they distribute manure of a highly nitrogenous nature; and yet the majority of farmers still look upon poultry as of small importance, and the value of them to the land and the land to them is largely ignored. Where poultry are kept about the farmyards and buildings, the manure is worse than useless, and the destruction of insect life is of little consequence; but if modern methods of poultry-keeping are practised, the fowls are scattered over the farm, where they glean a substantial portion of their own living and at the same time benefit the land. That is the clear reason why eggs and poultry can be produced more economically on the farm.

Plan to Adopt.

For most farms of from 100 acres upwards the following is a system which has been found successful. The breeding stock is composed of hens carefully selected from the pullet flocks after their first full moult. These special hens are mated to cocks or cockerels from pedigree layers which are purchased from specialist breeders and renewed every second year. Only one breed is kept. It is a great advantage to concentrate upon one breed and to build up a good strain. The breeding stock need not be penned, and will thrive better when kept upon free range. The number of the breeding stock is determined by the extent of the operations, and everything is designed to secure the object in view, whether that be to rear laying pullets or produce table poultry. The number of chickens required is estimated, and adequate provision is made for hatching and rearing this number up to the stage when the pullets will be transferred to laying sheds and the cockerels become fit for market.

The breeding flocks are kept in portable houses, either in single flocks of 12 hens and a cock or multiple flocks of 30 hens with two or three cock birds. These birds have free range, and when in such small numbers can be placed upon almost any spot on the farm without damage to growing crops. The stock under these conditions are vigorous and hardy. The laying stock, in flocks of from 50 to 150 in a shed, are located at suitable spots on the farm. Generally a pen of one-quarter to one-half an acre in extent is attached to the house. The pen is only used at seasons when it is necessary to keep the birds under control, and an odd corner of a field can be chosen for the purpose. A flock is often placed on a meadow used for grazing, when a pen is unnecessary.

Rearing Chickens.

For rearing the chickens a sheltered meadow, an orchard, or rough ground near the homestead, is selected, and it is a great advantage to change the rearing ground each year. Portable hovers are used in small chicken houses for incubator-hatched chicks. These houses are easily moved and are suitable, without the hover, for rearing young stock up to the adult stage, or for a hen with a large brood of chicks instead of a coop. To provide the additional accommodation necessary for the young birds as they grow, Sussex Night Arks are most suitable, but in many cases rough temporary shelters can be erected.

The labour in connection with the poultry is frequently a difficulty. When operations are upon a large scale, the employment of an experienced poultryman is justified. The wage of a poultryman is usually higher than that of other of the farm employés, but the hours are long and the work arduous. Where, however, the farmer acquires up-to-date knowledge of poultry management, less expensive labour can be engaged. Many young men and women are interested in this work, and such employés devoting their whole time to poultry can be expected to look after not less than 500 head of permanent stock and to rear 1,000 head of chickens annually each.

The work must be systematic and so arranged as to save unnecessary labour. Laying sheds at a distance should have corn and meal bins on the spot; water can be caught off the roof of the shed into a butt: these and similar labour-saving devices prove an economy. The capital expenditure entailed and the absence of a complete and methodical system have hitherto prevented the rapid extension of farm poultry-keeping, but an efficient plant can be built up gradually without a heavy initial outlay. The rent of many farms is paid by the profits from poultry, but on other farms money is lost and valuable opportunities are wasted through careless management and ignorance.

MONAGHAN AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE.

The Monaghan County Committee of Agriculture, at its last meeting, considered, and provisionally adopted, the agricultural schemes for the coming twelve months.

The Secretary pointed out that at the end of the year all the money on the agricultural side would have been expended, and if they wanted any other schemes they would have to take some from the technical side, which would have a substantial credit balance.

The Chairman (Major E. J. Richardson) said that the technical side had a balance of £1,300.

The live stock schemes were then discussed, and it was agreed to allocate the sum of £440 towards nominations to mares.

In connection with the cattle-breeding system, Mr. T. Murphy said that he would like to see more Dairy Shorthorns.

Mr. P. Fealy said that now that the bulls had been licensed, was it not possible to put some of them on the Department's register?

Mr. Conlon inquired if bulls that had not been passed would have to be done away with before October 1st.

The Secretary said that for a fee of 2s. 6d. a special licence to keep a bull for fattening purposes only could be obtained, an undertaking to be given that there should be no service.

The Committee decided to allocate £150 in connection with the swine-breeding scheme.

It was decided to reduce the expenditure in connection with winter agricultural classes from £20 to £10.

It was unanimously agreed that £250 be allocated for subsidies to shows.

The Committee decided to reduce the amount for the potato prize scheme from £70 to £60. £30 was allocated in connection with cow-testing, and £100 was set apart for agricultural scholarships. £100 was allocated as additional premiums for Dairy Shorthorn bulls.

Messrs. Craigie Brothers hold their third autumn sale of sheep in the Cattle Market, Dublin, to-day, commencing 12 o'clock sharp, when 4,000 head of brood ewes, store wethers and lambs will be offered. The entries include a good show of Galway, Oxford cross, Cheviot and blackfaced horny ewes, and an excellent selection of Galway, Oxford cross and blackfaced horny wether, as well as a large entry of lambs.

AUSTRALIAN WOOL SALES.

At Sydney wool sales 9,356 bales were offered, of which 8,194 were sold. Private sales totalled 1,542 bales. There was an average selection, and under appreciably widened competition values were fully maintained, good clearances being effected at late rates. Continental buyers were prominent, especially French and German. There was increased Yorkshire buying, and good Japanese. Greasy merinos realised 26½d.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

At the public sale two catalogues were submitted, jointly 10,452 bales, and comprised 5,234 New South Wales and Queensland, 1,654 Victorian, 704 South Australian, 159 West Australian, 525 Cape, 100 Kenya Colony. Good competition was again forthcoming from a full attendance of buyers, and a firm tone prevailed. All the better class merinos and cross-breds were in request, both by the home trade and Continent, at full to occasionally rather dearer rates, while some lots were withdrawn owing to high selling limits.

NORTH TIPPERARY AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE.

At a meeting of the North Tipperary Agricultural Committee, a letter was read from the Engineering Department of the General Post Office, stating that the affixing of Agricultural (or other) posters on telegraph poles was prohibited.

The Secretary said that Mr. James O'Meara, who acted as chairman of the Committee for the past five years had retired.

Mr. James Morrissey, Riverlawn, was elected chairman, and Mr. J. J. Hassett was re-elected vice chairman.

Premium Boars.

The Department wrote stating that they had decided to fix at £10 for the coming year, the price payable to breeders for premium boards supplied to selected applicants under the scheme. The secretary said this was an increase of £2 on last year's figure—£8. At their meeting next month the Committee would fix the details in regard to the fees.

The Department wrote informing the meeting that the Newport Cow-Testing Association had fallen through. Mr. McDonagh said that what happened in regard to this Association was, to the best of his belief, that the cows never came up to the 600 gallon standard, and three and a half per cent. butter fat. He thought there were only two or three cows at the outside registered in the whole district, and that disheartened them.

Nenagh Show.

The secretary read a letter from the Department approving the allocation of £90 by the Committee to the Nenagh Show Committee, and £20 to the Birr Show. He pointed out that there was a slight mistake made in regard to these allocations. He was ill at the time they were made, but instead of having £110 to allocate for this purpose, the Committee really only had £100. The figure, therefore, in the case of Nenagh should have been £80 and not £90. Mr. Meagher thought Nenagh was doing very well in getting the £80.

Home Grown Grain.

A long report from the secretary of the conference on prices of home-grown grain, held in Dublin recently, and which Messrs. Mounsey and Willington attended as representatives of the committee, was adjourned to next meeting. Mr. Meagher said it struck him that it was quite impossible to ask the Government to guarantee a minimum price of 25s. per barrel for barley. The secretary thought the market would have to govern the prices. Mr. Meagher agreed that it should be left to the market. They could not get the Government to hand over a few millions in subsidies of this kind.

The making arrangements for tenders for fruit and forest trees for the coming planting season was adjourned to next meeting.

A resolution from the Cork Agricultural Committee calling for a proper system of post-primary education for farmers' sons and daughters was adopted.

CURING OF PORK.

At the monthly meeting of the Council of the Ballymena Farmers' Association, Mr. R. J. Paul, J.P., president, in the chair, the Ministry of Agriculture wrote referring to the clerk's letter directing the attention of the Ministry to the complaints from cross-Channel firms as to the exporting of tainted bacon and hams from the Ballymena area, and stating that the question of the tainting of bacon, owing to the use by farmers of unsuitable feeding stuffs for pigs, was one to which close attention was being given by the Ministry.

The letter went on to say that the Ministry would continue, through the medium of its officers, as well as those of the various county committees, to advise farmers as to suitable feeding stuffs, and to impress upon them the dangers of using codliver oil, linseed cake, or other unsuitable feeding stuffs for pigs. The feeding of fish meal in any circumstances was not recommended by instructors. It would be most helpful if the curing firms would have the carcases of pigs bought by them marked for identification purposes.

After discussion, the Council decided that if continued complaints of tainted bacon and hams prevailed, it would be necessary for more drastic steps to be taken in order that the pork industry might be saved to the country.

FRIESIAN CATTLE SALE.

The Findlay herd of British Friesian cattle was dispersed on September 16th at Glasgow, Stonehaven, by Mr. George Findlay. The total sum realised for 135 head was 9,341 guineas. Mr. Paton, Aberdeen, secured the famous Clara for 350 guineas, the highest figure paid at the sale. Irish purchasers were as follow:—Cows and heifers—Polly 3rd, McCoy, Ireland, 55 gns.; Erica 2nd, Co-operative Society, Belfast, 105 gns.; Laurel 3rd, Co-operative Society, Belfast, 80 gns.; Blossom, Co-operative Society, Belfast, 90 gns.; Gladys 5th, Moffat, Belfast, 58 gns.; Patricia, Moffat, Belfast, 55 gns.; Maisie, J. Frame, Belfast, 52 gns. Bulls—Cesar Adema (September, 1924), Sweetnam, Ireland, 80 gns.

EXPENSES TO BE REDUCED.

At a meeting of the County Louth Agricultural Committee, the Secretary submitted a statement showing that the net amount available for live stock and agricultural schemes for the year ending 31st March, 1926, was £1,908. The estimated cost of the schemes was £1,646.

Mr. Campbell said that the total money paid out in grant premiums, etc., was £359, so that it took £1,287 to administer £359.

Mr. Dolan pointed out that the instructors were doing important educational work.

It was decided to adopt the sub-committee's recommendations requesting the officials to reduce the expenses of their respective departments by £20 each for the current year.

DUBLIN STREETS CONTRACT.

TO-DAY'S CONFERENCE.

COMMISSIONERS' EFFORTS TO AVOID A STRIKE.

A conference has been arranged, to be held in the City Hall at 11 o'clock this morning, between the Dublin Borough Commissioners and representatives of the Irish Municipal Employés' Union on the subject of the threatened strike of municipal employés as a protest against the acceptance by the Commissioners of the French street-cleaning tender.

In view of this conference no statement on the proposed strike was made yesterday, in order that to-day's proceedings might not be prejudiced.

It was stated yesterday in Dublin that the Commissioners had not yet signed the French contract.

THE TENDERS.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

The Borough Commissioners received three tenders for the cleansing of the streets—one from a Dublin firm, one from a London firm, and one from a French firm. The tender of the Dublin firm, according to the report submitted at the meeting of the Commissioners on last Saturday, was not considered, as it did not comply with the conditions laid down in the advertisement. That of the London company was to do the entire cleansing work of the city for an inclusive figure, but gave no details as to how this figure was arrived at. They undertook to take over from the Corporation cleansing staff as many men as they would require for the carrying out of the contract, but owing to the conditions of employment of the permanent men in the service of the Corporation, particularly as regards their compensation rights, the transfer would not be practicable.

The mileage of streets to be dealt with under the French contract for street cleaning would be 55 miles out of a total mileage of 175. The balance, being macadam surfaces requiring hand sweeping, would still be dealt with by direct labour, as would also the removal of bins, gulley cleaning, etc.

The adoption of this system, the Commissioners' report went on, would obviate the necessity for the employment of a considerable number of the horses and men at present engaged in the Cleansing Department. It would not be necessary to dispense with any of the permanent staff at present employed, and in the case of temporary men whose services would have to be dispensed with, preference would be given to them on any casual work which might be carried out. It was estimated that the number of men who would be required under the new system would not exceed 328 (not including overseers or dépôt keepers), as against the number of the present cleansing staff employed, 572, of whom 208 are temporary. The contract system will be introduced gradually, and will not be in full operation for a period of about eight months from the date of the execution of the contract.

The report of Mr. Commissioner Murphy recommending the acceptance of the French tender was adopted by the Borough Commissioners last Saturday.

UNION ALARMED.

On Monday night a meeting of the Irish Municipal Trades Union decided that a letter should be sent to the Town Clerk stating that the members of that Union were very seriously alarmed at the action of the Commissioners "in hurriedly deciding to introduce a foreign cleansing firm," the direct result of which would be the dismissal of 208 members of the Union.

The letter also stated that, "in view of the seriousness of the whole position from the point of view of our members and of Irish labour generally, we are instructed to warn the Commissioners not to sign the contract pending a full conference with this Union. If the Commissioners persist in their present attitude, the members of the Union will be compelled, in defence of their livelihood (which it is sought to hand over to foreigners), to withdraw their labour as from Saturday, October 3, 1925."

FURTHER CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. R. J. P. Mortished, Assistant Secretary of the National Executive of the Irish Labour Party, who wrote to the Town Clerk, giving the Labour Party's views on the matter, stated yesterday that they had intervened as a matter of public interest, in the general interest of the workers, and the general principle of direct labour by public authorites.

In reply to the men's letter, the Commissioners stated that the Union "is not justified in threatening what amounts to a lightning strike in order to urge the interests of one section of the Corporation employés."

The Assistant Town Clerk wrote, on behalf of the Commissioners, suggesting that "a conference would remove from your (the Union's) minds unjustified fears of wholesale unemployment," and asking that a day should be fixed for such a conference.

Yesterday morning Mr. Thomas Lawlor, Secretary to the Irish Municipal Employés' Union, replied to the Assistant Town Clerk's letter, stating that representatives of the Union could meet the Commissioners this morning at 11 o'clock, and asking if this arrangement would suit.

The Assistant Town Clerk, in answer to this, wrote that the hour suggested would suit the Commissioners.

The conference accordingly will be held this morning.

CLEANSING ACCOUNT.

LAST YEAR'S FIGURES.

Mr. P. T. Daly, Secretary to the Dublin Trades Council and Labour Party, writes to us as follows:—

In the report published by the Commissioners acting by "virtue" of the Government in place of the Dublin Corporation, there is a statement made by Mr. Commissioner Seamus Murphy that the acceptance of the tender for cleansing and watering the streets from M. Boudeville secures us a saving of £15,000. Herewith is a copy of the Cleansing Account included in the Corporation accounts for the year ended 31st March, 1925, which has not yet been published:—

CLEANSING ACCOUNT.

Expenditure—Year to 31st March, 1925.
Wages	£92,306	17	9
Sanding of streets	2,661	8	1
Horse hire	280	17	6
Sick pay	2,963	11	0
Clothing	1,100	0	1
Horses' forage, etc.	9,116	13	5
Plant (repairs, maintenance and renewals)	4,186	14	10
Depots and offices (maintenance, lighting, coal and materials)	2,593	15	4
Tramway system for disposal of refuse	5,300	17	3
Refuse destructor	2,849	3	9
Management and general expenses:—
Salaries	£2,597	13	9
Wages of servants	117	4	2
Pensions to workmen (including £660 9s. 8d. arrears. Report 219/1924)	9,908	13	0
Pensions (officials, £881 10s. 5d.; messenger, £188 14s. 4d.)	1,070	4	9
National Insurance Act: employers' contribution	1,018	2	7
Sundries	1,811	6	0
Capital debt charges	3,269	17	2
Special Works Account:—
Clontarf new tipping ground (wages, £1,962 11s. 8d.; materials, etc., £774 5s. 2d.)	2,736	16	10
Fairview sloblands layout: (wages, £966 7s. 7d.; materials, etc., £25 5s. 4d.)	991	12	11
Burgh Quay Pumping Station (wages, £62 15s.; materials, etc., £188 7s. 5d.)	251	2	5
Purchase of motors	283	3	6
Dust bins account	266	5	5
Motor plant account	8,333	6	0
	£156,015	7	6

It will be noticed that the full cost of the city's Cleansing Account is £156,015 7s. 6d., and does not allow for credit of horse sales £6,795. The cost of M. Boudeville's tender is (taking Mr. Murphy's report as accurate) assessed at £134,000 for 55 miles of streets. This would leave £22,015 7s. 6d. to pay for the cleansing, bin-lifting, refuse disposal, etc., work of the Cleansing Committee, including all the above, with the exception of £92,306 17s. 9d. for wages. But as these wages would include the pay of the men included in looking after the 120 miles of streets, which are the most ill-paved and badly macadamised of all the roads within the Commissioners' jurisdiction, one wonders where the £15,000 saving is to come from.

Much has been said about the saving effected by the Commissioners, but when one remembers that the gross estimate of the Cleansing Department in 1918 barely exceeded £96,000; that the estimate for the last year of the Corporation's control totals (according to analysis) a net expenditure of £100,332 14s. 9d. for street work (page 126, Corporation accounts, 1924), one feels that the Commissioners' claims for economy effected are a little Gilbertian.

CARTER ASSAULTED.

STRUCK BY STONE AND IRON BAR.

Michael Martin, a carter, employed at Messrs. Tedcastle McCormack's coalyard, Dublin, was assaulted yesterday morning while driving a cart near Lime street. He was struck by a stone thrown by a man standing near the quay wall. He was getting off his cart to run after the man when another person hit him on the head with a short iron bar.

Both assailants succeeded in getting away. Martin was taken to Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital, where he was detained for treatment for a short time.

DUBLIN AND THE PROVINCES.

DUBLIN.

Mulhuddart Graveyard.—The inquiry by the Local Government Department into the question of the closing of the old section of Mulhuddart Graveyard will be held at 11 a.m. at Blanchardstown Schoolhouse on Wednesday, October 7.

Union Finances.—At the meeting of the Dublin Union Commissioners yesterday it was announced that the credit balance in the bank was £26,410 9s. 7d., and the amounts due from contributory bodies—Dublin Corporation £14,299, Dublin County Council £8,729 10s.

R.I.A.M. Distinctions.—The public competition for Coulson exhibitions in the pianoforte, organ, violin and 'cello, also the examinations for diplomas and certificates of proficiency in teaching and solo performances will be held in December at the Royal Irish Academy of Music, Westland row.

An Evening of Shakespeare.—In the Molesworth Hall this evening at 8 o'clock an attractive programme will be presented by Miss Mary O'Hea of scenes from "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Henry V." and "As You Like It." The caste is a strong one and includes such popular artists as Miss Elizabeth Young as "Rosalind," Mrs. May Carey as "Katherine of France," and Mr. Joseph Hood as "Bottom." Shakesperian songs will be sung by Miss Victor Hanna and others.

Two Girls Injured.—Two girls, Annie Lynch (15), 29 Boyne street, Dublin, and Margaret Evans (30), 50 St. Lawrences's road, Clontarf, were knocked down by a motor car in O'Connell street, Dublin, at 10 o'clock last night. They were conveyed to Jervis street Hospital by the Corporation Ambulance. The former girl was suffering from a broken leg, and the latter from abrasions of the left leg. Both were detained.

Presentation to D.M.P. Inspector.—A presentation was made at 34 St. Kevin's road by the members of the D.M.P. to Inspector Gilmore on his retirement from the force after 29 years' service. The gift took the form of a gold hunter watch, suitably engraved, and a gold bracelet for Mrs. Gilmore. All ranks of the force were represented at the farewell supper and several civilian friends were also present. Inspector Gilmore is sailing for New Zealand in a few weeks' time.

St. Ann's Lectures, 1925-26.—The above series, which proved so popular last winter, will be revived during the coming season, beginning Wednesday, 28th October, 1925. This year the lecturers include Mr. Arthur Weigall, the distinguished Egyptologist, whose lecture last year was so popular; Major Radclyffe-Dugmore, whose success in the photography of big game is so well known; Major-General Dunsterville (the original "Stalky" of "Stalky and Co."); W. T. Blake, the leader of the first attempt to fly round the world, and many others. Information can be obtained from the secretary, 19 Dawson street.

PASSENGERS BY B. AND I. LINE, VIA LIVERPOOL.

ARRIVALS:—J. R. O'Conor, R. McKeever, Professor H. Dixon, R. Williams, Lord Mayor of Manchester, T. Archer, Misses Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Murphy, T. Ackland, J. Farrell, Mrs. Forsythe, Major Bannatyne, R. E. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ringwood, W. Hill, T. Cohen, J. Gilbert, M. Green.

DEPARTURES:—Hon. Charles Barnewall, R. Walsh, Mrs. H. C. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Dobbs, Master Dobbs, Mrs. Beamish, J. Cooper, H. Jones, T. Gall, Fr. Shine, Miss Jackson, Mrs. Ward, J. Gahan, P. Cadwell, Mr. and Mrs. Welsh, W. Woods, H. Cullen, T. McCauley.

LEINSTER.

Rebuilding Barracks.—Graiguenamanagh (Co. Kilkenny) police barracks, which was destroyed during the civil strife, is being rebuilt for the use of the Civic Guard.

Against Credit Societies.—Ballygarrett (Gorey) Farmers' Union has requested the Government to give loans to farmers who have lost their stock through disease, as they contend that the conditions governing the credit societies are unworkable.

Guns Without Permits.—At Wexford District Court yesterday, before Justice Fahy, David Roche, Harriestown, Taghmon, was sentenced to imprisonment till the rising of the Court for having two guns in his possession without permits.

Wife's Lapse.—At Roscrea District Court, Mary Thompson, Errill, was charged with the larceny of £280 from her husband, Joseph Thompson, Roscrea. It was stated that the parties had not been living together, but were now together again. The accused had been arrested at Ballybrophy Station while waiting for a train to Dublin and the money found in her possession. Justice Meagher complimented Sergeant Hanly and Superintendent Geary on the manner in which they had effected the arrest and secured the money. The parties having come together, the accused was given the benefit of the Probation of Offenders Act, and allowed out on her own bail of £10 to be of good behaviour for twelve months.

Cruelty to Dogs.—At Borris-in-Ossory District Court evidence was given by Sergeant Carmody that he found two dogs, the property of Julia Downes, Clongooden, Leix, tied in a field to frighten crows. One of the dogs was secured by a rope round its neck, attached to barbed wire, which had caught in the dog's hair. The other animal was similarly secured to plain wire. Both animals seemed to have been left for some time without food. Justice Meagher, in fining the defendant 10s., said that it seemed to be a habit with people in some parts of the country to tie dogs out day and night, exposed to the weather, which he considered a serious form of cruelty.

Jail for Theft of Cheese.—Charged with the larceny of cheese from a provision merchant's shop in Longford, Patrick Kilmartin, a motor driver, was sentenced to two months' imprisonment, with hard labour, at Longford District Court yesterday.

After Two Years.—After the lapse of over two and a half years, the audit of the accounts of the Thomastown Rural District Council has been begun in the boardroom of the Thomastown County Home by Mr. J. Hurley, Local Government Auditor.

MUNSTER.

Alleged Embezzlement.—Francis Geraghty, who up to two months ago was District Superintendent at Limerick of the New Ireland Assurance Company, was arrested on Monday by the Derbyshire police at Chesterfield on a warrant charging him with embezzlement of £103, the property of the company. Sergeant O'Mahony, Civic Guards, Limerick, has gone to Chesterfield to bring the accused back to Limerick.

Licensing Sessions.—At the annual Licensing Sessions yesterday, the Civic Guards objected to the renewal of the licences of four publicans on the ground that structural alterations which they had asked to be carried out were not done. On promising to have the requirements of the Guards carried out, three of the licences were renewed, and the fourth was adjourned to enable notice of objection to be served on the publican.

Jail for Mean Theft.—Michael O'Keeffe, farm labourer, received five months' imprisonment at Fermoy District Court for stealing £17 10s. from William Donovan, another labourer, on the 6th August last. With the money the accused took a trip to Wales and returned without a penny, and was arrested by Sergeant Flynn, Glenville, on the 16th September. The accused pleaded guilty.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

New Magistrates.—Mrs. Stothers, The Rectory, Benmore, Co. Fermanagh; Mr. W. W. Hall, Lack, Co. Fermanagh, and Mr. William Watson, Aughentaine, Co. Tyrone, have been appointed to the Magistracy.

Ex-Service Men's Interests.—At a largely attended ladies' meeting, held in the Ex-Service Men's Hall, 54 Royal avenue, Belfast, it was unanimously decided that a Jamboree or "Vanities Fare" be held in December next from Wednesday, 9th, till Saturday, 12th, to augment the funds of the organisation generally. Mrs. Richardson, who presided, said that they must not forget the ex-Service men. Mr. Boyd said he was delighted to see so many ladies present, which was a healthy sign, and spoke volumes for their enthusiasm on behalf of ex-Service men. All ladies present were then formed into a committee.

Death of Commercial Traveller.—Mr. James Ferguson, one of the oldest members of the North and West of Ireland Commercial Travellers' Association, has died at 75 Eglinton avenue, Belfast. Mr. Ferguson had been sixty years on the road. He was the Belfast representative of Messrs. A. and S. Henry and Co., Ltd., Manchester. He was one of the Association's trustees, and was president of the organisation in 1879.

Steeplejack in Court.—At Newry Petty Sessions yesterday, James Gill, who achieved fame some years ago as Newry's steeplejack, was charged with drunkenness by Special Constable Scott. Gill's excuse was that he met a chum who was a soldier with him in the war, and they had a few drinks, but they both got home safe. The Chairman (Mr. F. D. Russell) said that the accused was a great warrior, and as he was a bit of a landmark he did not wish to send him to jail. He was fined 5s. and costs.

Killed by Tramcar.—In the Belfast Custody Court yesterday informations were refused in a case in which Thomas Stanfield, Eureka street, a motorman in the employment of the Belfast Corporation, was charged with the manslaughter of Mary Anne Millar, who died in the Royal Victoria Hospital as the result of being knocked down by a tramcar on the Falls road. A verdict of accidental death had been returned at the inquest, and the driver was exonerated from blame.

Daylight Robbery.—Gibson's Buildings, Castle street, Belfast, were the scene of a daring robbery on Tuesday evening, when Messrs. Donald and Co., clothiers, who occupy the flat at the top of the building, lost goods to the value of about £100. The missing package (or skip) was part of a consignment from Leeds to Messrs. Donald, and only arrived that morning. It was delivered at Gibson's Buildings in the course of the day, and was removed by the gang just before six o'clock.

Motor Car Sold for £17 10s.—In an action for damages brought by Robert Clews Magill, by his father, against Henry Hull, 62 Nelson street, Belfast, for damages in respect of personal injuries sustained and clothing injured, as alleged, by reason of the careless and negligent driving and management of a motor car, the property of the defendant, the jury assessed damages at £12 12s. and gave their fee to the Royal Victoria Hospital. The case was heard in the Grand Jury Room of the Courthouse, Crumlin road, Belfast, before Mr. James Quail, Under-Sheriff. It was stated that the boy was so badly injured that five or six stitches had to be put in a wound he received. In reply to Mr. Reid (for the plaintiff) the defendant said that he had sold the motor car for £17 10s. and was now working as a labourer.

Boy Killed By Motor.—William Osborne (9), Glendermott road, Londonderry, was knocked down by a motor car driven by Mr. W. D. Hanna and died from his injuries shortly afterwards.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

WICKLOW SHIRT-MAKING TRADITION.

County Wicklow Joint Technical Instruction Committee yesterday decided to inaugurate a class for instruction in shirtmaking and needlework at Wicklow, the object being to revive the tradition in shirtmaking in the town and provide employment.

The Department wrote agreeing to accord temporary recognition to a dressmaker having experience in shirtmaking, and the Chairman (Canon Johnson) said the best thanks of the committee were due to Mr. J. Everett, T.D., for the suggestion.

Several traders of the town attended a special meeting and agreed to give the scheme every support by the sale of the articles and the supplying of materials.

A scheme prepared by the Principal (Mr. MacCarthy), and providing for the improvement of domestic economy instruction, was approved. Under the scheme special classes will be held in Wicklow daily to afford instruction in cookery, housewifery and needlework, the dishes for cooking to be suitable to the average house in the town, and certificates to be granted at the end of the session to successful students.

RADIO POETRY.

A TALK BY MR. F. R. HIGGINS.

A talk by Mr. F. R. Higgins on how his poetry came to be written and on the sources of his inspiration was broadcast from Belfast last night. Mr. Higgins illustrated his talk by reciting extracts from his volume of verse entitled "Island Blood." He dealt with a poet's enthusiasm, and, in prose as pleasant as his verse, he touched upon the Western land, Galway and Connemara, where the Gaelic attitude towards life still obtains to a very large extent and the legends and traditions inspire poety. "The West," he said, "with its vigour and intensity, nurtures the stuff of poetry. There one gets back to the fundamentals, still found, alas! only in the more primitive, and finds an expression of the individualistic life as yet unconfined by the museums."

DUBLIN SALMON ANGLERS' PROTEST.

At a special meeting of the Salmon Anglers' Protection Association, held at 3 Inns quay, the following resolution was passed unanimously:—

"That this meeting strongly protests against the cent. per cent. increase in rod licence duty, as we consider it will defeat the object of the bill—viz., to bring increased revenue to the Boards of Conservators.

"It is the working man who will be most severely hit by this increase, as at present 80 per cent. of the funds come from this class. The result will be that many sportsmen will be unable to take out a licence, and an increase of this kind is almost an invitation to poach.

"We would point out that the unanimous recommendation of the conference of Conservators of Fisheries held recently was that the licence figure of £1 should remain."

LOVE'S arrows are in the air when a beautiful woman passes by. The woman whose complexion is preserved and beautified with the aid of Vinolia is always sure of admiration. Vinolia is so pure and so carefully made that it soothes the most sensitive skin. Its lather is so soft that, in addition to cleansing, it tones and rejuvenates the complexion, and its fragrance is delightfully refreshing.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

A conference between the Dublin City Commissioners and the Municipal Employés' Association in reference to the acceptance of a French firm's tender for the sweeping of the city streets will be held this morning.—(Page 5.)

Twenty-nine candidates have now been eliminated in the Free State Senate election count.—(Page 7.)

The revenue returns for the first six months of the financial year were issued yesterday.—(Page 7.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

An outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease was confirmed yesterday at Preston, near Weymouth, Dorsetshire.—(Page 7.)

The heavy attack by "left-wingers" on Mr. Macdonald for his actions in relation to the Zinovieff letter failed at the Labour Party Conference at Liverpool yesterday, the composite resolution tabled on this subject being overwhelmingly rejected on a show of hands.—(Page 7.)

ABROAD.

Messages from Paris and Madrid announce successful advances by the French and Spanish forces in Morocco yesterday.—(Page 8.)

SPORTING.

At Limerick yesterday Templelyon won the Stand Plate, Killowen the Autumn Plate, Laurence the Stewards' Plate, Silpho the Garryowen Plate, Castle Dodd the Shannon Plate, and Drifting Prince the Tradesman's Plate.—(Page 10.)

At Newmarket Mafoota won the Newmarket October Handicap.—(Page 10.)

At Edinburgh Horace Groom won the Lothians Handicap.—(Page 10.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were stronger. British Rails were buoyant, and Rubbers recovered sharply.—(Page 11.)

Money was in ample supply in Lombard street, and day-to-day loans were made at 3-3¼ per cent. and occasionally higher. Discount rates were steady.—(Page 11.)

In Dublin excited dealings in Irish Rails left prices at generally better levels. Guinness improved.—(Page 11.)

Secrets of Empire.

With the roar of great guns waking the echoes amongst the Atlas mountains, it is natural that the outside world should be concerned with the present difficulties of France in Morocco rather than with the magnitude of the achievement which, inside the last half century, has transformed the face of North Africa and has regained for European civilisation the lost provinces of the Roman Empire. The Riff war, seen in its true perspective, amounts to little more than an ugly tail-piece tacked on to a notable chapter in the history of European colonisation; and, stout fighter as Abdel Krim has shown himself to be, his ultimate fate is not likely to differ from that of his great predecessor, Abdel Kader, who struggled so valiantly to bar out the French from Algeria. In this generation no man has rendered greater service to France in Morocco than Marshal Lyautey, who, after thirty years of effort, in the course of which a half-conquered province has become a stable and well-governed empire, now retires from his pro-consulship. Bold in war, he was, unlike many soldiers, no less ready to face risks in peace, and his achievements already have ranked him amongst the greatest of colonial administrators French history is less rich in geniuses of this type than in great colonial adventurers such as de la Salle, who first carried the flag from Canada to Mississippi, or Dupleix, who divined the military possibilities of Indian troops trained and led by Europeans. Marshal Lyautey's triumphs were due to his insight in going back to the Roman model, and building solidly, if slowly, on sound foundations.

By a coincidence the resignation of Marshal Lyautey falls in the same week as the second centenary of the birth of Robert Clive, who overthrew the French Empire in India largely because he worked by instinct on much the same plan which France in later years pursued in Morocco. Clive's greatest feat was neither Arcot nor Plassey, but the campaign that he waged to purge the Indian service of corruption and favouritism, and to ensure that a great Empire should be administered in a spirit of statesmanship. If he failed, his policy survived to triumph; and the ideal of impartial justice and of service instead of personal profit has done more to buttress the British Empire than even the determination of its statesmen or the gallantry of its soldiers. Ideals, however, depend upon their interpretation in action, and here success or failure hinges not only on the personality of leaders, but on a quality in the popular consciousness that leads it to respond instinctively to the spirit of a national ideal. This quality even their enemies cannot deny to the British race. They may have conquered, as was said, half the world in a fit of absent-mindedness, but in the development of their possessions they have recognised that their first duty is not merely to safeguard, but to improve, the welfare of the peoples whom fortune placed under their flag. Long before the League of Nations evolved the scheme of European mandates to aid Asiatic and African peoples England had adopted the mandatory idea throughout her far-flung Empire.

Rome, it was said, built for eternity; but with her possessions, though she stamped them so indelibly with her image that after a thousand years the impress still can be discerned, she built primarily for her own profit. British methods have been less drastic; but, if the record of three centuries counts for anything, they are not likely to prove less enduring, and it must not be forgotten that British methods owe no small measure of their success to the Irish genius. Wellington helped to carry to success in India many of the reforms which Clive had planned, and, in the most desperate crisis that threatened British rule in the East, defeat was turned into victory mainly by the efforts of two Irishmen, John Lawrence and John Nicholson. We supplied leaders out of all proportion to our population, and made no less notable a contribution to the rank-and-file. If Clive was an Englishman, the white troops of the East India Company, with which his most famous victories were achieved, were recruited for the most part from the Irish peasantry. It was colonists of Ulster stock who, as Theodore Roosevelt showed, held for generations the frontiers of England against all Indian assaults, and were the advance guard of pioneers in the winning of the West, the great epic of nineteenth century America. Since the Galway sailor who formed one of the crew of Columbus Irishmen have played their full part in oversea enterprises. Their achievements are the best guarantee of success in the task to which they are now addressing themselves of rebuilding out of old materials a new Irish State.

Prophecy and Progress.

The reproduction by newspapers of articles which they published a hundred years ago is always interesting and sometimes useful. Often these reprints show that the most enlightened statesmen and the most competent journalists of the day were mistaken in their deductions from current events. On September 30th, 1825, The Times was gravely perturbed. Trade was bad and taxation was high after the Napoleonic Wars. The menace of impending industrialism was in the air and the labouring classes were seething with discontent. The Times wrote that the Cabinet had been occupied of late with a problem of urgent and sinister importance—"we mean the spirit which has for some time directed the combinations of the working classes against their employers. If this spirit," The Times added sombrely, "proceeds as it threatens, we give it as our well-weighed opinion that neither lawful authority nor private property—as for commerce and manufactures, they are out of the question—will be worth so much as five years' purchase from the date at which we are writing." There were troubles to come, indeed—the Chartist disorders and others—but this gloomy and precise prediction was followed by the vast material progress, the solid contentment and the literary splendours of the Victorian period. The truth seems to be that civilisation always has been disposed to pessimism. Since the ancient centuries men have looked back to the imagined beauty and happiness of a Saturnian Age and have anticipated progeniem vitiosiorem. To-day we deplore the loss of the faithful service of the antique world; but it has been deplored since the beginning of time. Elizabethan ladies rated the idleness and inefficiency of their servants in terms which to-day would provoke a storm of protest from the Women Workers' Union. The fourteenth century was the period of the trade guilds, when, according to Mr. Hilaire Belloc and other pleasing writers, the artisan, a passionate seeker of perfection, worked with one eye on the glory of his craft and the other on the glory of God. In 1319, however, the Grocer of Troyes wrote a poem of thirty thousand lines which flagellated the vices of the age; and he put this speech into the mouth of a tiler:—

> "When I finally make up my mind to work, I take with me a young mate who knows nothing of the job, but I insist on his being paid the full wage of twelve deniers. When, at last, I get on the roof, I lay one tile in the time it should take to lay eight or ten. I ease off and sing a song, then take a siesta between two slopes of the roof. It is then time to knock off for dinner. After that, it is soon supper time, so we leave work for that day. Of course, with piece-work it is different; I can do as much in one day as in five days by the hour."

Has any twentieth century critic said anything worse about our modern plumbers and bricklayers? Human nature has not changed, but—more's the pity, perhaps—all the conditions of life have changed, even since 1825. Our new forces of mass production and international competition are stern taskmasters. The great fact about wages in these days is that they cannot be paid unless they are earned; and, sooner or later, our "sheltered" workers in the Free State will discover it.

War in the Air.

It was scarcely to be expected that the rapid progress of "broadcasting" during recent years could continue without the development of problems peculiar to itself. Not the least of these problems is the "clashing" of wave-lengths which causes serious interference between the transmissions of European stations. The question has been considered carefully by the International Wireless Conference at Geneva, and now a scheme has been evolved which, though not ideal, will do something to avert the chaotic conditions that were almost certain to result during the coming winter. The plan ordains that a country must fulfil certain conditions in regard to size of population, area and the length of time during which a "broadcasting" service has been established before it can secure a place in the coveted wave-band between 200 and 600 metres. Further details of the scheme will be announced, but one matter which concerns the Free State has been made clear. Newly-constructed stations will be confined to positions below 200 metres. Fortunately, however, it was arranged at the Geneva Conference that the first Free State station should receive a position within the coveted part of the wave-band, and for this concession our "wireless" enthusiasts will be exceedingly grateful. There are at present in Europe some one hundred "broadcasting" stations, and the problem is to find room for all inside the 600 to 200 metres wave-band. Development there must be, and new stations must be erected. It would seem, therefore, that the difficulty in this respect is likely to increase, and some other means than the present scheme must be devised to overcome it. There is almost complete unanimity among the experts that a solution must be found in a policy of a few high-power stations covering wide areas rather than a large number of low-power and relay stations. This policy, it is contended, would give more satisfactory results to listeners—particularly to users of crystal sets—and would eliminate the "clashing" of wave-lengths. The suggested change presents no technical difficulties.

Tall Ships.

Features of the present seamen's strike bring vividly before us the change which has taken place in the conditions of those who go down to the sea in ships. Would Marryat have recognised as seamen the army of white-clad stewards who form to-day a large part of the crew of ocean-going liners? Where now is the faithful Tom Bowling? The many inventions of our days have effected a great sea change, and we are not richer by it. The sailor's life has been standardised and has lost much of its colour and peculiar personality. If, as Mr. Kipling assures us, the liner is a lady, she does not possess the art of winning lovers—certainly not to the same degree as her sail-clothed predecessor. It is rarely now that one sees a great sailing ship; soon they will be as extinct as the stage-coach, and to-day museums and private collectors are seeking eagerly for models of sailing craft. In his splendid volume on "Ship-models," Mr. E. K. Chatterton suggests that the passion for romance which humanity cherishes may in this age of machinery find some consolation in contemplating the tiny representations of famous ships. On few works of art has the craftsman lavished more love; they make an instant appeal to the imagination. One is taken out of oneself and can sail through all the ages. One can go raiding with Vikings and can journey round the world with Drake in the Golden Hind. One can stand beside great captains in famous sea fights, and, without discomfort, go down with Kempenfeldt in the Royal George. Carracks and galleasses, corvettes and three-deckers, all have their stories: the drama of the sea is revealed in miniature by these little vessels which a few years ago were regarded as toys. Unfortunately, many of them have made a final voyage across the Atlantic and are dry-docked in American museums; but enough remain to reveal to us the splendour of the sailing tradition and to revive the memory of the sailor's life in less mechanical days.

OBITUARY.

SIR ALAN REEVE MANBY.

Sir Alan Reeve Manby (77), the well-known physician and surgeon, died on Tuesday evening at Rudham, Norfolk.

Deceased was Physician Extraordinary to the King and Surgeon Apothecary to the King and the Household at Sandringham. He was in attendance on the Prince and Princess of Wales during their Colonial tour in 1901. He was the inventor of various instruments and author of various papers in British and American magazines.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL JOHN WOLRIGE-GORDON.

Lieutenant-Colonel John Wolrige-Gordon, of Hallhead and Esslemont, died suddenly yesterday morning at Esslemont House, Ellon, Aberdeenshire, aged 64 years. Lieutenant-Colonel Wolrige-Gordon served on the North-West Frontier of India in 1897-1898 and was awarded the medal and clasp, and in the South African War of 1899-1902 he was twice mentioned in despatches, was promoted Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel, and received the Queen's and the King's Medals, with six clasps.

COLONEL F. HAMBLETON CUSTANCE.

Colonel Frederick Hambleton Custance, C.B., died at his residence, Old Hall, Weston Longville, Norwich, on Tuesday night, at the age of 80. Formerly of the Grenadier Guards, on retiring he joined the Norfolk Militia, which he commanded in the South African War, being mentioned in despatches and awarded the C.B. for his services. During the European War he acted as recruiting officer for his district. Colonel Custance's wife predeceased him. His only surviving child is Lady Alfred Douglas.

THE REV. JOHN HEALY, P.P.

The death of the Very Rev. John Healy took place yesterday at the Parochial House, Monkstown, Co. Dublin. Father Healy was born at Skerries, and was ordained to the priesthood in 1882. His first appointment was to the curacy of Clondalkin, from which parish he went to fill the post of Dean of Holy Cross College, Clonliffe. For a few years he was Secretary to the late Archbishop Walsh. His next mission was as curate at Howth, and having served for a period in the parish of Dalkey he was appointed pastor of Saggart, Co. Dublin. Thence he was transferred to Terenure, where he carried out improvements, which were highly appreciated by his flock. Last year, on the death of Canon Eaton, he was appointed Parish Priest of Monkstown.

IN OCTOBER.

Sunshine again along the hill,
  And in the air a strange caress,
As if the Summer lingered still,
  Roaming the wild wood wilderness.

A fleeting gleam, a wind that sighs
  From some lost Summer far away;
And free and boundless as the skies
  My wander-world of dreams to-day.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

Princess Mary has promised to attend the matinée performance of the Leeds Musical Festival on Thursday, October 8th, and will be accompanied by her mother-in-law, the Countess of Harewood. A very fine programme has been arranged and well-known artists will take part.

The Marchioness of Headfort has left Headfort House for London, with her younger son, Lord William Taylour, who will leave in the Mauretania next Saturday for New York. The Earl and Countess of Derby will return to London next Monday, and later will entertain a series of shooting parties at Knowsley Park. Lady Alice Ashley has left Little Missenden for Bath and will be away for three weeks.

Among the Irish guests present at the wedding of Sir Terence Falkiner and Miss Mildred Cotterell were Lady Bellew, Colonel the Hon. Milo and Mrs. Talbot and Sir Richard and Lady Butler, who recently returned from Herefordshire to their London residence.

Apples were the chief feature at the Royal Horticultural Society's Show in London yesterday, and one of the very fine collections was shown by Lady Eva Wyndham Quin, whose exhibit of pears also attracted much notice.

Admiral of the Fleet Earl Beatty and Countess Beatty have arrived at Duntreath Castle on a visit to Sir Archibald and Lady Edmonstone. Lady Ermyntrude Malet, who has been taking a course of the waters at Harrogate, has returned to London.

Lord Queenborough, Commodore, and Lady Queenborough received the guests at the annual ball of the Royal Thames Yacht Club, which celebrates its 150th anniversary this year. The ball took place in the clubhouse in Knightsbridge, and there was a large attendance of members and their friends.

The marriage arranged between George Armitage Bird, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bird, Cotswold, Winchcombe, Glos., and Noreen Phyllis, younger daughter of Mr and Mrs. Grahame Bailey (formerly of Herbert Park, Dublin, and now of 8 West Bolton Gardens, South Kensington, London, S.W.5), will take place very shortly in Ceylon.

A marriage is arranged, and will shortly take place, between Dermot Joseph Daly, eldest son of the late James Dermot Daly, of Castle Daly, County Galway, and Mary Isobel (Mabel), daughter of the late J. King, Clifden, County Galway.

A marriage has been arranged, and will take place in December, between P. A. Aubin, Esq., H.M.'s Receiver-General, Jersey, and Pamela Hill, Matron, Adelaide Hospital, Dublin.

MARRIAGE OF MR. F. B. CRAIG AND MISS LANE-JOYNT.

The marriage took place quietly on Monday, September the 28th, at the Church of the Annunciation, Bryanston street, London, between Francis Brownrigg Craig, late Major, Machine Gun Corps, third son of the late Thomas Craig, of "Novara," Bray, and Olive, only daughter of the late Albert Lane-Joynt, barrister-at-law, and Mrs. Glenleigh Taylor, 49 Grosvenor street, London. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Charles Dickinson, who officiated as best man. The bride, who was given away by her mother, wore an afternoon dress of apricot ninon, trimmed with grey fur, and a hat to match. She was attended by Miss Doreen Phelps. The Service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Buchanan, of St. Luke's, Redcliffe square, and the Rev. P. Waddington, Vicar of the parish.

The near relatives were afterwards entertained to lunch by Miss Lane-Joynt, aunt of the bride, at the Ladies' Athenæum Club.

MARRIAGE OF MR. GEORGE FLOOD AND MISS KATHLEEN SHERIDAN.

The marriage took place at the University Church, St. Stephen's Green Dublin, on September 15th, 1925, of Miss Kathleen Sheridan, daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. J. Sheridan, Mullagh, Co. Cavan, and Mr. George Flood, son of Mrs. and the late Mr. James Flood, Kilkeelan House, Athboy, Co. Meath.

The ceremony was performed with Nuptial Mass by the Very Rev. T. Mulvany, P.P., V.F., Trim (uncle of the bride), assisted by Rev. P. Mulvany, C.C., Lobinstown (cousin of the bride), and Rev. M. O'Farrell, P.P., Athboy.

The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. T. P. Mulvany. Misses L. Sheridan and L. Mulvany, sister and cousin of the bride, attended as bridesmaids, and Mr. E. Brown, cousin of the groom, assisted as best man. The bride wore a dress and veil of dove grey, embroidered with silver, and wreath of silver leaves, and carried a bouquet of white roses, and the bridesmaids wore dresses of silver grey, with hats to match, and carried bouquets of pink roses. After the ceremony the bridal party, with a number of friends, returned to Jury's Hotel, where the wedding breakfast was held, after which the happy couple started by motor for Killarney. Many beautiful presents were received.

LONDON LETTER.

MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD'S ACHIEVEMENT.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The proceedings at the Liverpool Labour Conference have done much to rehabilitate Mr. Ramsay Macdonald in the estimation of his party. Only a few days ago there was a determined attempt to get rid of him as leader of the Labour Party, but he would be a brave Labour leader who would suggest to-day that Mr. Macdonald should be deposed. Liverpool has given the ex-Premier an opportunity of showing that, in vision, political acumen and tactical adroitness, he is without a rival in his party. It has also revealed to the Conservatives that the Opposition has a leader—even though he has been somewhat of a failure in the House of Commons this year—who must be reckoned with. Socialism has thrown off Communism, but it still remains Socialism, with everything for which Socialism stands. These views were generally expressed this afternoon in political circles, which are watching the progress of the Conference with the keenest interest.

The Communist Position

The Communists, though they have met with such distinct rebuffs at the Conference, are still inside the Labour Party, and will remain there for some time to come. The present Communist delegates cannot be turned out of the Conference, since the resolution passed yesterday is not retrospective, and Communists, already delegates, will hold their positions during the term for which they were elected. Another point of interest is the manner in which future candidates for office will be put to the test in regard to their political views; for at present unions have no power, or even rules, to impose test questions.

Miners and the Coal Commission.

The turn of events at Liverpool may have an effect on the coal situation; for it is recognised that there is a change of feeling in the attitude of the majority of the miners' leaders, and it is more than likely that there will be another meeting with the Prime Minister to discuss matters, since the line taken by Mr. Cook is not looked upon as the best in the circumstances. Once an understanding with the Prime Minister has been reached, the Miners' Federation will be in a position to resume its appearance before the Coal Commission and to provide evidence of a character that the Commissioners desire to hear.

To Counter Socialism.

In order to reach the large public which desires instruction on current political questions, and is unable to attend classes for reasons either of distance or time, the Anti-Socialist and Anti-Communist Union has arranged courses of tuition by post in anti-Socialism, elementary economics, and public speaking. This method of instruction has not hitherto been attempted by any organisation opposed to Socialism. It is a development of the Union's school for training public speakers, which was started last year. So many requests were received from the smaller provincial towns and from distant parts of the country to have the classes extended outside London that it was decided to inaugurate a system of tuition by post, which would be available to students in any part of the country, however remote. The courses have been prepared on elementary lines, and are designed specially to enable those who take them to understand current political and economic questions.

The Boundary Commission.

The members of the Irish Boundary Commission are persevering with their task, and continue to meet at intervals. The end of the Commission's work must be approaching, but not the least indication has leaked out as to the nature of its findings, and the many versions of the substance of its report are mere speculations, intelligent or otherwise. It is a little curious that the position occupied by the Commissioners is scarcely realised. They will not issue a report which may be taken or left by the Government of the day, but a document which will have all the effect of a legal pronouncement. Boundary-making is a very serious and carefully carried out business, and that is why the Commission and its staff are devoting such minute care and attention to all the circumstances attending the present inquiry.

Iraq Frontier.

One of the most influential personages in the whole Middle East in the person of Miss Gertrude Bell, Oriental Secretary at the Baghdad Residency, left London today, on the expiry of leave, for Iraq, whither she is returning by motor car over the desert route. In a conversation with her before her departure I gathered several items of information about the present state of Iraq's frontier. In the first place, the attitude of Turkey towards the Mosul question is sincerely believed to be bluff, and it is being taken for granted in Iraq, at any rate, that by next December the Northern frontier of Iraq will be settled in accordance with British views. Next, the Southern frontier of Iraq with Nejd, where Sultan Ibn Saoud rules, is regarded as settled. In the East, however, the frontier with Syria is in a most unsatisfactory condition, and it will be one of the tasks of Sir Gilbert Clayton, who left London last week with a British mission for Arabia, to clear this matter up. Even more important than the question of frontiers, however, is the attitude of the Iraqis towards Great Britain. It seems that they have completely accepted the idea of a twenty-five years' mandate. Two or three years ago they would definitely have refused to entertain so prolonged a period of tutelage.

Restrictions on Clubs.

Sir W. Joynson-Hicks, the Home Secretary, has undertaken to receive a deputation next month with reference to the removal of the restrictions imposed upon clubs since the war. The request will be for the full restoration to pre-war rights, or for an alteration in the existing hours, adapted to the differing requirements of districts. The personnel of the deputation has not yet been decided, but it will be of a representative character, and will include members of the Association of Conservative Clubs, of the Club and Institute Union, and of the Liberal, British Legion and West End Clubs.

Another St. Paul's Scare.

Mr. William Harvey, the author of a book on "The Preservation of Saint Paul's and other Famous Buildings," started a new scare to-day by stating that the dome of St. Paul's is approaching collapse. Mr. Harvey says that his view is supported by the fact that new cracks have appeared and old fractures have developed further since the work of restoration commenced, and that what is being done is more likely to precipitate the collapse than to prevent it. Experience of the collapse of ancient monuments indicates that they fell without any other sign than the usual symptoms of decay. When the end is about due small fractures suddenly develop into larger ones, but by then the time for preventive measures and repairs has gone. The Cathedral authorities are not at all perturbed by the comments of Mr. Harvey. Their attitude is that they have sought the advice of the best experts in the country and that they are perfectly satisfied to leave the work of restoration in their hands.

Had it not been for France, I should have been willing for all debts to America to be wiped out.—Senator Borah.

FREE STATE FINANCES.

RETURNS FOR HALF-YEAR.

A COMPARISON.

FIGURES NEAR ESTIMATE.

The first half of the Free State finan cial year closed last night, and the Financ Minister issued his usual statement at very early hour in the evening.

The following are the principal figure compared with those of the same period o 1924:—

REVENUE.

1925	£12,389,296
1924	12,748,355
Decrease	359,059

Central Fund	£1,272,071	£3,890,527
Supply Services	10,771,090	26,238,453
	£12,043,161	£30,128,980

It will be seen that, in spite of heavy decreases in Customs and Excise, in the least favourable portion of the year the Finance Minister has gathered in sufficient to bring his estimate within a reasonable prospect of realisation. Last year 50 per cent. of the estimated revenue had been secured on September 30. Of his estimated expenditure on the Central Fund and Supply Services he has disbursed 40 per cent.

OTHER RECEIPTS AND ISSUES.

The "other receipts" in the past six months total £420,500, as compared with £868,500 in 1924, and the "other issues" in 1925 (including £100,000 for the Shannon scheme) figure at £532,200, the total in 1924 being £1,055,800.

NINE DAYS' REVENUE.

The nine closing working days of September produced £669,077. The expenditure for the same period was £1,732,099.

The balance in the Exchequer has fallen from £2,934,649 on September 19 to £1,915,627, as compared with £4,243,167 on the same date in 1924.

NINE DAYS' REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE TO SEPT. 30, 1925.

BRITISH FIGURES.

HEAVY DEFICIT.

The Treasury returns for the first six months of the current financial year show a deficit of £35,972,025. The revenue to date amounts to £343,934,735, compared with £348,509,395 for the corresponding two quarters of last year—a decrease of £4,574,660. The expenditure in the same period is £379,906,760, against £360,491,995—an increase of £19,414,765.

The principal changes in the revenue returns for the half-year, compared with the same period of 1924, are in round figures.

INCREASES.

Miscellaneous Special Receipts	£2,500,000
Interest on Sundry Loans	2,500,000
Super Tax	2,225,000
Stamps	1,225,000
Postal Service	750,000
Motor Vehicles Duties	750,000
Customs	500,000

DECREASES.

Property and Income Tax	£9,225,000
Corporation Profits Tax	2,500,000
Estate Duties	1,500,000
Excise	1,000,000
Land Tax, House Duty, etc.	500,000
Miscellaneous	500,000

The increase in expenditure is accounted for by Supply Services, £13,000,000, and National Debt Sinking Fund, £6,225,000.

The outstanding floating debt is £775,121,000, which is £1,000,000 more than on September 30, 1924, and nearly £33,000,000 more than at March 31 last.

For the July to September quarter alone the revenue was nearly two and a half millions above that for the corresponding quarter last year.

UNFORESEEN END TO FOX HUNT.

MOTOR CAR "IN AT THE KILL."

While the Cotswold Hounds were out cubbing between Cheltenham and Gloucester they hunted a fox on to the main road, where he was run over by a passing motor car, the driver of which got out, picked up the fox, and made off with him.

ILLEGAL TRAWLING.

FLEETWOOD SKIPPERS FINED £100 AT WEXFORD.

Fines of £100 and costs in each case were imposed by Mr. J. V. Fahy, District Justice, yesterday on John Kim, Fleetwood, skipper of the trawler Meuse, and Stephen Reader, also of Fleetwood, and skipper of the Kingston, for beam-trawling within the prohibited area off the Wexford coast on the 15th May last.

SHANNON SCHEME DISPUTE.

CONFERENCE IN LIMERICK.

DIRECTOR OF LABOUR APPOINTED.

The reports which were current in Limerick during the past few days as to the possibility of negotiations being opened with a view to the settlement of the Shannon scheme labour dispute were verified by the developments which took place in Limerick yesterday.

Dr. McLaughli , the Irish representative of the contractors, Messrs. Siemens-Schuckert, and Mr. Joseph McGrath, the ex-Minister for Industry and Commerce, arrived in Limerick on Tuesday night from Dublin, and yesterday a conference with officials of the Limerick Branch of the Irish Transport Workers' Union was held. The proceedings were private, and no statement was made as to what took place.

It seems likely that the negotiations will not conclude for a couple of days. The wages offered by the contractors, 8d. an hour, and the rate in operation in Limerick and Clare, 1s. 1d. an hour, as well as the conditions of labour generally, will, it is believed, give rise to considerable discussion before any arrangement is reached.

Yesterday's conference was of an informal character.

MR. McGRATH'S APPOINTMENT.

Mr. Joseph McGrath, who will have the employment of all the men on the Shannon scheme, is acting for the contractors, and is described as Director of Labour. Mr. Thomas Kennedy (Vice-President) and Mr. Patrick McCarthy (Local Organiser) are representing the Transport and General Workers' Union in the negotiations.

Contrary to general expectation, the conference was not resumed last night. The situation arising out of the informal proceedings earlier in the day was considered by a committee of the Transport Workers' Union last night, but no information as to what took place was available.

When seen last night, Mr. Joseph McGrath, on behalf of the contractors, had nothing to say beyond the statement that the situation was hopeful. He would not say more pending the resumption of negotiations to-day.

One thing can be said, and that is that the delay in reaching a basis of agreement is causing irritation locally among the working classes.

Another consignment of constructional material and plant is expected to arrive in the port to-day. This will consist of the parts of a large electric crane which is to be erected at the docks for the unloading of further cargoes required for the Shannon scheme.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE.

OUTBREAK IN DORSETSHIRE.

The Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction in Dublin are officially informed by the British Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries that an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease was confirmed yesterday at Preston, near Weymouth, Dorsetshire.

The necessary precautions have been taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

The total stock on the premises consists of thirty-two cattle, of which sixteen were found to be affected. No information is available as to the means by which disease was introduced to these premises, but inquiries are proceeding.

The slaughter of the stock is in progress. An order has been made imposing the usual restrictions on the movement of animals within a radius of about fifteen miles of the affected premises.

BROADCASTING.

FREE STATE'S "FORTUNATE POSITION."

Writing on the problems of "broadcasting," which were discussed at the International Wireless Conference at Geneva, the "Broadcasting" Correspondent of the Daily Telegraph outlines the scheme adopted by the conference for dealing with the problem of "clashing of wave lengths." "One point of interest," he writes, "concerns the construction of new stations. These will be given positions below 200 metres. In this respect the new Dublin station, which will commence operations this year, is very fortunate. The British representative at the Geneva Conference was able to arrange a position for the first station in the Irish Free State, inside the coveted part of the waveband." The present wave-band is from 600 to 200 metres.

THE CLONES ROBBERY.

RAIDERS STILL AT LARGE.

Eight or nine men were detained by the police in connection with the robbery of a sum of £262 from an agent of the Northern Banking Company near the town of Clones on Tuesday, but all were afterwards liberated.

The latest account is that the raiders have crossed the border, as they were seen going in that direction by some country people a short time after the robbery.

One of the raiders wore a knitted cap, which was pulled down over his face, while the other had what seemed to be a woman's apron tied around his head.

DARING FEAT.

LOUGH NENAGH TO PORTRUSH IN CANOE.

Mr. William J. Moore, J.P., Tir Owen, Ashley Gardens, Belfast, a member of the Ulster Anglers, has performed the daring feat of journeying from Lough Neagh to Portrush in his canvas canoe, Shamrock IV., the intrepid canoeist accomplishing the voyage in face of stiff gales and high seas.

Mr. Moore used this canoe on former voyages on the Shannon, Lough Swilly, Lough Foyle, and Lough Erne trips. Its dimensions are 11ft. 9ins. in length, extreme width on top 2ft. 9ins., on water line 3ft., depth 12ins., keel 2ins., double blade paddle 7ft. 6ins., a mast. A sail is used occasionally and weighs 100lbs. The folding truck (21lbs.) is a most useful article, and is one of the handiest carriages in existence. It is capable of carrying a weight of 200lbs.

ESTATE OF MR. J. W. GUNNIS.

Mr. John William Gunnis, of 13 Wyndham avenue, Margate, Kent, formerly of Winston, Longford, late County Surveyor at Longford, who died on the 24th April last, left estate of the gross value of £4,391 19s., with net personalty £3,696 8s. 4d. Probate of his will has been granted to his widow, Mrs. Charlotte Amy Gunnis.

HOW BELFAST IS HANDICAPPED.

DELAYS OF ENGLISH MAILS

PLEA FOR DUBLIN AND KINGSTOWN ROUTE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Wednesday.

Belfast business men continue to protest against the unreasonable delay in the arrival of the important portion of the English mails, including the late London letters, by the Larne and Stranraer route. This morning the mails arrived two hours behind the scheduled time—viz., 11.35 a.m.—with the result that they were not despatched from the General Post Office until the 2 o'clock delivery this afternoon.

It was suggested recently that the mail service via Kingstown and Holyhead should be restored, and that the late London mails for Belfast and County Antrim should be sent by this route in the same way as the mails are despatched daily for the great majority of the towns in Northern Ireland, including Portadown, Newry, Lisburn, Dungannon, Derry, and Enniskillen.

The boat train from Kingstown arrived at Belfast to-day at 9.11 a.m., one minute behind time, or two hours and twenty minutes ahead of the Larne and Stranraer route. No vaild reason had been shown why business men in Belfast should not get their letters earlier by this more trustworthy route.

Another factor which is strongly in favour of the restoration of the mail service by the Holyhead and Kingstown route is the continuance of the night service during the winter months, which would enable mails from London to arrive nightly at 9.10 o'clock. When the Stranraer and Larne daylight service terminates next month considerable inconvenience will be caused by the handling of all the mail matter in the Belfast Post Office every morning, and in addition a poorer service will be available for Ballymena, Antrim, Coleraine, and other Northern towns.

If the mails were restored to the Holyhead and Kingstown route, a large proportion of the sorting could be done at Belfast during the night, and such letters then could be despatched by the first trains northward from Belfast.

MR. MULCAHY MOBBED AGAIN.

SCENES AT PHILADELPHIA: FIFTEEN ARRESTS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday.

Mr. Richard Mulcahy, member of the Dail for Dublin City (North), who had such a stormy reception from Irish Republican sympathisers when he arrived at Hoboken a fortnight ago, was to-day mobbed by a crowd of rioters while the delegates of the Parliamentary Union were paying a visit to the Independence Hall.

One of the rioters struck Mr. Mulcahy in the face, and he was again molested at the railway station. The police intervened, and made fifteen arrests.

The demonstration was not directed against the other Parliamentary delegates, with whom Mr. Mulcahy was travelling en route for Washington.

SCANDINAVIA'S TRADE FIGURES.

BAN ON ALL FOREIGN INVESTIGATORS.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

COPENHAGEN, Wednesday.

The Inter-Scandinavian Trades Conference has agreed without opposition not to give any foreign country the right to investigate another country's trade economic conditions or trade methods.

This means that the Scandinavian trade leaders regard the recent official American investigation into foreign trade conditions as "having consequences which will hurt the development of friendly and economical connections amongst nations."

All the Scandinavian countries were recently visited by American officials desiring to investigate trade and market conditions, but Sweden, Norway and Denmark kept their statistics books closed, and denied all the required information.

THE POPE'S BLESSING FOR IRELAND.

RECEPTION OF PILGRIMS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENTS.

ROME, Wednesday.

The Pope to-day received in the Consistorial Hall, 110 Irish pilgrims, 40 of whom came from Cork and the rest from other parts of Ireland. The former were conducted by Father Shooeney and the latter by Mr. Chisholm, pilgrimage director. The Pope presented the pilgrims with medals commemorating the Jubilee Year.

In a short address he thanked them for the long journey they had undertaken in order to profit from the spiritual benefits of the Holy Year, adding that Ireland was very dear to his heart.

His Holiness concluded by imparting to all the pilgrims the Apostolic Benediction, and extending it to the whole of Ireland.

COMPULSORY IRISH.

TEACHERS' OBJECTION.

Speaking at the Ferns Diocesan Synod at Enniscorthy on Tuesday, the Rev. Canon W. Gibson, LL.D., said that one of the chief difficulties in the way of getting young people to take up the teaching profession was that likely candidates objected to compulsory Irish. He knew two teachers who had left the Free State for Ulster to escape the burden of compulsory Irish in the school.

Others would not take up teaching appointments in the Free State because they objected to giving so much time to teaching a useless language.

AUSTRALIAN STATE GOVERNORS.

MEMORIAL TO THE COLONIAL OFFICE.

SYDNEY, Wednesday.

Mr. Lang, the Labour Premier of New South Wales, has cabled to the Colonial Office a memorial from the five Australian States favouring the appointment of local men as State Governors.

A PROTEST.

ADELAIDE, Thursday.

The anti-Labour members in the South Australian Legislature have lodged a strong protest against the Government joining in the movement for the appointment of Australians as State Governors.

DOCTOR DROWNED IN I.O.M.

News was received at Manchester yesterday afternoon that Dr. Niven, late Medical Officer of Health of the city, had been found drowned at Douglas, Isle of Man, where he arrived on Monday.

Dr. Niven retired in March, 1922.

Yesterday morning some wearing apparel was found on Onchan Head, and a search was made in the neighbourhood of the cliff, with the result that the body of an elderly man was discovered submerged in ten feet of water. On the clothing was a letter which contained a request that he should be buried at sea.

An inquest will be held to-morrow.

29 CANDIDATES ELIMINATED.

THREE OLD SENATORS LOSE THEIR SEATS.

TO-DAY'S FIGURES.

LEADER STILL NEEDS NEARLY 700 FOR THE QUOTA.

The thirtieth count in the Free State Senate election was completed by the Chief Returning Officer, Mr. Wilfred Brown, and his staff of civil servants at 76 Marlborough street, Dublin, yesterday.

Five candidates were eliminated during the day, making a total to date of 29—which includes three members of the Senate who sought re-election.

The latest five to be excluded are:—Miss Kathleen Browne, of Wexford; Dr. Anthony MacBride, of Castlebar; Mr. J. Clayton Love, Queenstown, a retiring senator; Dr. Douglas Hyde, also a retiring senator; and Mr. Michael Staines, ex-T.D., and an alderman of the defunct Dublin Corporation.

None of the remaining forty-seven has secured enough of the transferred votes to make up the quota of 15,296 necessary for election. Mr. Toal, who is still in the highest position with 14,552 votes, wants nearly 700 more.

One of the most striking features of the count has been the poor show made by the Irish language enthusiasts, Dr. MacEnri, President of the Gaelic League; Mr. O Foghludha, Dr. Douglas Hyde, and Mr. Liam O'Briain. Mr. Liam de Roiste is the only prominent supporter of the movement still in the list.

The number of first preferences received by those candidates was as follows:—Dr. MacEnri, 1,636; Mr. O Foghludha, 660; Dr. Hyde, 1,721, and Mr. de Roiste, 2,933.

The highest transfers yesterday were:—259 from Miss Browne to Mr. Jordan, and 282 from Mr. Love to Mr. G. Crosbie. The first three candidates to be eliminated when the count is resumed this morning will be Mr. J. C. Eason, Mr. O'Neill, and Mr. Crosbie.

LABOUR'S ALLEGATIONS.

With regard to Labour's allegations of irregularities during the counting of votes in Monaghan, Donegal and other places, nothing further has been heard of the matter since the refusal of the Chief Returning Officer to grant permission to the Labour election agent (Mr. Cassidy) to inspect certain papers.

Speaking to our representative yesterday, Mr. Cassidy said:—

"If those responsible for the proper conduct of the election are anxious to eliminate serious irregularities on future occasions, I believe that they were ill-advised when they refused to give us an opportunity to prove that grave irregularities took place on this occasion."

Below are the figures for the first count and the present positions of the candidates:—

OFFICIAL FOUND UNCONSCIOUS.

A HEART ATTACK.

Mr. F. C. Mason, M.R.C.V.S., of 18 Belgrave square, Monkstown, who on Tuesday night was found unconscious in a laneway near Lincoln place, Dublin, has so far recovered that he was able to leave Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital and return home yesterday. In a letter written to us yesterday from 18 Belgrave square, Monkstown, Mr. Mason says:—

"The chloroform which I carried in my pocket was purchased shortly before my heart attack for the purpose of destroying an old dog, and none of it had been taken from the bottle. The medical staff at Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital did not diagnose my case as one of chloroform poisoning, and the fact that I was able to return home to-day is evidence that no such theory is tenable. I have suffered from similar attacks on two former occasions, with intervals of several years between them, and have to offer sincere thanks to the courteous constable who took me to hospital, and for the kindness and skill of the hospital staff, which quickly restored me."

The King has been pleased, on the recommendation of the Secretary for Scotland, to approve the appointment of Sir Herbert Eustace Maxwell, Bart., of Monreith, to be a member and Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the National Library of Scotland, established under the National Library of Scotland Act, 1925.

DOUBLE SUCCESS IN MOROCCO.

FRENCH MOVE NORTHWARD

SPANISH TAKE MOUNT LAS PALOMAS.

PARIS, Wednesday.

To-day's operations in the Eastern sector of the French front in Morocco, while primarily intended to extend the base in the Kiffane sector, have, nevertheless, taken the French northward, up the two branches of the Upper Msoun Valley, towards the watershed, whence the Oued Kert runs north-eastward, in the direction of the Spanish front, to the west of Melilla. Three brigades, including fourteen battalions and twenty batteries, took part in the action, which was personally supervised by Marshal Pétain and General Naulin.

Messages from Fez state that the operations will last two days, after which a halt will be called, and the situation will be developed in accordance with circumstances. This is the first time that French troops have penetrated into this country, which has never yet come under French influence.

From other sectors of the front there have been only skirmishes to report.—(Reuter.)

FEZ, Wednesday.

The French advance was covered by heavy gunfire, which destroyed the Moroccan positions. Part of the troops have reached the Djebel Tjab district and the left bank of the Wisert, while in the centre an advance is being made towards Smuch. The enemy are falling back northwards, and it is possible that the French forces by the end of the morning will reach important objectives, which will constitute excellent bases for later operations of a more important character. The cavalry division and the camel corps have completed their concentration.

With reference to the above message, earlier telegrams to-day reported the arrival of Marshal Pétain and General Naulin on the eastern sector of the French front, where an offensive was opened this morning, under favourable conditions.—(Reuter.)

SPANISH SUCCESS.

MADRID, Wednesday.

The following official communiqué is issued concerning the new Spanish advance in the Alhucemas sector, which began this morning:—

"At daybreak to-day our troops began a forward movement, with the object of occupying the important line of heights of Taramara, Buybar and Palomas."

Admiral Mogaz, Acting President of the Directory, later announced that this morning's operation in the Alhucemas sector has been happily terminated. The Spanish troops occupied Mount Las Palomas, and certain other points.—(Reuter.)

EXCELLENT ARTILLERY POSITION.

In a message from Madrid last night, The Times Correspondent states—General Sanjuro's troops, in the Alhucemas sector, advanced one and a half miles to-day, and captured Mount Palomas. The operation, which appears to have been carried out with the greatest success, gives the Spaniards possession of an excellent artillery position. Mount Palomas is three miles inland, south-west of Punta Palomas, and is within two and a half miles of Adjir. Details of the new victory have not yet been received, but its importance is obvious.

MOORS' 75 M.M. GUNS.

TANGIER, Wednesday.

Tetuan was heavily shelled by the Moors on Monday night from the hills on the South-East. 75 mm. guns, served by Andjera tribesmen, are stated to have been in action. The Spanish casualties are given as seven killed and wounded. Some animals were hit and damage was caused to buildings. The Spanish artillery replied to the enemy's fire by shelling over the town from the hills on the North, and eventually silenced the enemy's guns. The casualties inflicted are not known.

This action of the Riffis is probably a counter-move to the Spanish advance on Ajdir, advantage being taken of the reduced garrison in Tetuan.

There has been little enemy activity on the French front, but the French yesterday carried out fifty-five aerial bombardments, notably at Tazarin and Bu Tugor, and along the valleys of the Rivers Tleta and Ifran, North of Astar. The French Goliath, which has been lost, was forced to land three miles South-East of Sheshuan, the crew being made prisoners.—(Press Association Special Telegram.)

THE FRENCH DEBT.

PROBLEM REFERRED TO PRESIDENT COOLIDGE.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday.

The American Commissioners dealing with the question of the French debt, in view of disagreement among themselves, have decided, after a conference, to lay the whole of the French debt situation before President Coolidge.—(Reuter.)

IMPERIAL PRESS AND WIRELESS.

SPEEDING-UP OF STATIONS.

MELBOURNE, Wednesday.

The Imperial Press Conference resumed its labours this morning, Lord Burnham, the President, announcing that he had sent the following cable to Lord Rosebery:—"Greetings: best wishes, your memorable speeches quoted by Bruce, Anstey, and myself."

The Conference then passed a motion, proposed by Major the Hon. J. J. Astor, M.P., and seconded by Lord Apsley, M.P., advocating the fullest provision of telegraphic communication facilities throughout the Empire, and expressing the opinion that it was of the most urgent public importance that there should be an adequate system of cheap and rapid transmission and distribution of news between all parts of the Empire.

Mr. Fink, Victoria, moved that, in view of the fact that the Rugby Wireless Station would be in operation by the end of the year, and that its range would cover all parts of the Empire, the Conference should urge that the transmission charges should be at the lowest possible rate, based on the cost of maintenance, interest, and a reasonable rate of depreciation. The motion was provisionally carried.

Mr. G. A. L. Green, South Africa, moved a resolution regretting the long delay in the erection of the beam stations in England, and urgently impressing on the Imperial Government the necessity for expediting their completion.

Lord Burnham said that the British Postmaster-General had given assurances that the matter was being proceeded with.

Mr. E. Woodhead, Great Britain, moved that words be added to the resolution welcoming the Postmaster-General's assurance that expedition was being used in the erection of the stations. The original resolution, with this addition, was carried.—(Reuter.)

PRICE OF MILK IN DUBLIN.

The Dublin Cowkeepers' and Dairymen's Association gives notice that as from to-day the price of milk in Dublin City and suburbs will be as follows:—Fresh milk, delivered twice daily, 8d. per imperial quart; Pasteurised milk in bottles, 8d. per imperial quart. Milk sold over the counter for cash will cost a penny less than the prices above.

PRICE OF FLOUR REDUCED.

The London Flour Millers' Association last night announced a reduction of 2s. in the price of standard grade flour, which makes it 43s. per 280lbs. in the Home Counties.

BABY'S REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

A two-year-old baby in a perambulator on the Ravenhill road, Belfast, had a remarkable escape when a private motor car, driven by a lady, skidded on a tram line, mounted the footpath, and dashed into the perambulator. This was smashed, but the baby escaped with no worse injury than a bleeding nose.

Several other children were pinned against the wall, and two of them received injuries necessitating treatment in hospital.

LATE NEWS.

LABOUR PARTY'S RESOLUTION.

THE NEXT STEP.

In a leading article The Times observes:—The Labour Party's proscription of Communism and Communists has been sufficiently emphatic to impress everybody. There will not be, there cannot be, a "united front" of British Socialism with Russian Bolshevism, or with any other creed which exalts force above reason and a dictatorship above democracy. The decision of the Conference unquestionably reflects aright the state of opinion in this country. Only a minority has been captivated by Communist theory. Neither the highly embellished reports of General Council delegations nor the specious claims of the authors of the Russian dictatorship have concealed the truth. The stable dependence of the English mind on Parliamentary methods and its abhorrence of class war as a prelude to "heavy civil war" are unchanged, and the Labour Party, as a party, shares these unshaken convictions. That was scarcely in doubt.

A party which renounced its faith in the people would be finally discredited in a free land where there is approximation to adult suffrage. The question was rather as to the force and determination with which the Labour Party would set itself against the noxious doctrines that have made very appreciable inroads among the organisations which are its main support. The Labour Party was dealing on Tuesday, and is dealing still, with an enemy within its gates as well as without. It is not only denouncing a political dogma fundamentally inconsistent with its own faith, but is battling against the dissemination of the poisonous germs in its own body and members. The party has made a great and welcome affirmation—one necessary for its own existence as a political organisation, claiming, as it does, the reversion of Ministerial office, and one that undoubtedly makes for the welfare of the country.

But these resolutions do not end the matter. They are rather the point of a new departure. They are declarations to indicate the necessity for prompt and continuous action outside. The spirit of Communism will not be exorcised by a resolution, nor will the agents of Communism disappear before the magic of the word "ineligible." The decisions of the Conference will have in due course to be translated into acts that will speak more eloquently than words. If they are loyally observed in the branches of the party that are wholly political, and in the trade unions which are not primarily political organisations at all, then the expulsion of the Communists should be complete. And it is manifestly the duty of all who cooperated to pass the resolutions to give them full force and effect. The conflict, let it be repeated, is not over. On the contrary, the really decisive action has yet to be taken.

FORTHCOMING MARRIAGE.

The Times says:—A marriage has been arranged, and will take place quietly in London at the end of October, between Lord HolmPatrick and Lady Edina Ainsworth.

HEALTH MINISTER'S TOUR.

The Times Political Correspondent says:—The Minister of Health yesterday began a tour of the country, which should prove of considerable importance by paying a visit to Bath. Mr. Neville Chamberlain hopes in this way to establish personal contact with the various local authorities, and to see at first hand how the public services are being administertd. This is a departure from tradition, which will be welcomed by local authorities. To-day Mr. Chamberlain will go to Bristol. Liverpool, Cardiff, Newcastle-on-Tyne and Bradford will be included in the tour.

SIR WILLIAM SCHLICH.

The Times announces that Sir William Schlich, K.C.I.E., died on Monday at his residence in Oxford, at the age of 85. From Germany, the country of his birth, he brought to the country of his adoption an instructed enthusiasm for forestry, and it is largely owing to his labours, continued for more than fifty years in India, at Cooper's Hill, and at Oxford University, that sylviculture has been raised to its present position throughout the British Empire as a recognised science, the basis of a specialised profession. Few specialists have done more alike by their own energies and by their inspiration of others. No doubt, much of his success was due to his remarkable powers of organisation, but his two chief secrets were simply that he loved his science and that he loved his pupils.

RAILWAYMEN'S WAGES.

The Westminster Gazette Labour Correspondent says:—There was an important development in connection with the railway unions' all-grades programme yesterday. The companies intimated that the Central Wages Board, which has been convened for the 14th October, could not consider the demands for increases on behalf of the shopmen, nor the application by the unions for pensions.

SIX INJURED IN MOTOR COLLISION.

The Daily Express states that six persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a cross-roads smash between two motor cars at Ashford Common, Middlesex. Mr. and Mrs. Percival Jones, of Coomblands, Addlestone, were seriously injured. Mr. I. Butler, his wife, and a young son were also injured. Mrs. Wyatt, Mr. Butler's mother-in-law, aged 70, received a fractured skull, and is in a critical condition.

MEMORIAL TO ORIGINATOR OF SUMMER TIME.

The Westminster Gazette says:—It is proposed to purchase Petts Wood, extending over 80 acres, at Chislehurst, Kent, as a memorial to Mr. W. Willett, of Chislehurst, the originator of "summer time."

NAVAL FORCES IN NEAR EAST.

The Daily Express states that amended orders issued to the Mediterranean Fleet, and published by the Admiralty last night, show that strong naval forces will be maintained for the next few weeks in Near Eastern waters, concentrating at Suda Bay, Crete.

FIRE FIGHT ON LONDON SHIP.

LAST SCENE AT GRAVESEND.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Wednesday.

From 10 o'clock on Tuesday night to 4 a.m. to-day the Gravesend Fire Brigade was fighting the fire on board the steamer London Mariner—7,900 tons gross. They succeeded in extinguishing it except for some unimportant smouldering, and the vessel left for the Surrey Commercial Docks. The London Mariner was bound from New York to London with a mixed cargo. Coming up-Channel, when off Beachy Head, smoke was seen to be issuing from one of the holds.

The Gravesend Fire Brigade received a message from Margate, and it met the vessel just off Shore Mead Fort, in the Reach. She was then taken in tow by the tug and brought to Gravesend.

The work of attacking the fire, which was in the bunker used for kitchen coal, was difficult owing to the dense smoke that was coming from the holds. A member of the crew was twice overcome by the smoke as the vessel was proceeding up the river, and on each occasion he had to be dragged out of the hold.

ADVERTISING THAT PAYS.

Lord Leverhulme, speaking at the opening at Bradford of the new premises of the Yorkshire Observer and kindred newspapers, said that advertising might be regarded as the channel through which the manufacturer could talk to his existing and prospective customers—the general public, and his experience had been that the medium which ensured the best heart-to-heart talk was the Press.

The King has been pleased, on the recommendation of the Secretary for Scotland, to approve the appointment of Mr. Alexander Low, M.A., M.D., C.M., Reader in Embryology, attached to the Anatomy Department, Aberdeen University, to be Regius Professor of Anatomy in that University, in place of Professor Reid, resigned.

LABOUR PARTY STAND FIRM.

NO APOLOGY TO THE SOVIET.

COMMUNISM DEFIED BY MR. MACDONALD.

When the Labour Party Conference was resumed in Liverpool yesterday, a Communist resolution urging that an apology should be sent to Moscow for Mr. Ramsay Macdonald's action in reference to the Zinovieff letter, was defeated by a large majority.

There was a rather stormy debate in the afternoon, when Mr. Bevin unsuccessfully tried to get a motion passed expressing the opinion that the Labour Party should not again accept office while they had a minority in the House of Commons.

WHAT LABOUR WANTS.

MR. MACDONALD STRIKES OUT

In a scathing speech, dealing with the Zinovieff resolution, Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, in reply to Mr. Gallagher (Paisley Trades and Labour Council), said that it was a libel on the Labour movement to say that its leaders had blank cheques on Moscow. He did not care two straws for Communist support. The support that Labour wanted was the support of men who were honest in their statements, and when defeated one day were not going to malign the whole movement in order to serve their own purposes. (Cheers.)

"I think it is about time that we faced these slanders," declared Mr. Macdonald. "I would point out to them that nobody, from the point of view of vulgar display of wealth, of waste of national resources, in riotous living, is less entitled to point the finger of scorn at me or anybody else than the Communist leaders in this country at the present moment." (Loud cheers.)

Mr. Macdonald moved the Executive Committee's resolution pronouncing a declaration of the principles of the Labour Party. Only upon avowedly Socialist principles could the claim of the workers for a fair and decent livelihood be met, the resolution stated, and the necessity for larger public services being brought under national ownership and democratic control was becoming more abundantly clear.

An amendment by Mr. Ferguson (Glasgow) declaring it to be now more than ever necessary to organise the workers for a vigorous struggle for the overthrow of the capitalist class, was overwhelmingly defeated, and the resolution was carried.

During the debate Mr. J. H. Thomas mounted the rostrum. A humorous cry of "Name, name!" was raised.

"Wembley," replied Mr. Thomas, amid laughter.

A resolution from the Executive was adopted, declaring that unemployment could only be prevented by the scientific coordination of the nation's economic resources, and industrial undertakings for the public good instead of for private gain.

EXCITING DEBATE.

During the afternoon's sitting, Mr. Bevin, Transport Workers, moved a resolution expressing the opinion that it was inadvisable that the Labour Party should again accept office while having a minority in the House of Commons, and the discussion was marked by stormy scenes.

The first arose out of the decision of the Chairman to take a card vote, and there was considerable commotion until a motion suspending standing orders was carried.

Mr. Thomas urged the Conference to be practical, and said that the carrying of the resolution might result in an absurd and ridiculous situation. He asked the delegates to refuse the resolution.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald said that they could not tie their candidates and their party in that way. What a silly position they would be in. Let them keep their noses to the grindstone, and see how things were when the problem was a real one.

Declaring that he was going to fight Mr. MacDonald's tactical attitude, Mr. Bevin said that it was a typical speech—the old Leicester agreement over again.

To cries of "shame" and "intolerable," Mr. Bevin retorted that he had never forgotten the tactics at Leicester with Gordon Hewart and the Liberals before the war. Going on to refer to criticisms of trade union leaders by Mr. MacDonald during his office as Premier, Mr. Bevin complained that Mr. MacDonald had probably unconsciously thrown the offensive remark "paper man" at him.

Eventually the resolution was defeated by 2,587,000 to 512,000.

SPECIAL LEVY ON LABOUR.

At a private session of the Labour Party Conference at Liverpool, at which the position of the Party was considered, it was decided, the Press Association understands, to impose a levy for one year of threepence per member of every affiliated society and trades union. The affiliated membership is about four millions, so that the special levy will bring in about £50,000 in one year. The present affiliation fee is threepence per member, and the effect of the special levy is that the contribution of the affiliated organisations will be double for one year only.

REVOLUTION BY THE BALLOT BOX.

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, addressing the annual demonstration of the Labour Party in Liverpool last night, submitted that constitutionalism was the method which was most characteristic of and most fruitful for democratic effort. Revolutions had now to be effected by the ballot box.

The Labour Party begged democracy of all classes to remember its solemn responsibility to govern the State in accordance with justice, mercy and humanity. They believed in constitutionalism—not in that flabby kind of merely lying down and taking what came, but constitutionalism of men who saw great problems of poverty in front of them. To-morrow the Labour Party might be down, but he was not discouraged. He hoped that the Labour Party would be better understood.

MR. COOK'S FIERY SPEECH.

Speaking at Manchester last night, Mr. Cook, miners' Secretary, said that people who thought that argument counted were living in a fool's paradise. If they believed in the "tosh" some leaders talked, that by the strength of their case they would win, they were mistaken. Progress had been made because men had been unconstitutional.

He did not care what they passed at Liverpool. The trade union movement would override everything. If there were a crisis in the railway world, the mining world, or the dockers' world, Bevin, Thomas, Cramp and Cook would march and do what the trades unions told them. Keir Hardie would turn in his grave at some of the Conference decisions.

SOUTHERN TRAIN SERVICES.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENTS AT AN END.

The lengthy list of alterations in the train services of the Great Southern Railways, which come into operaion on Monday next, represents for the greater part the usual re-arrangements at the termination of the summer season, with its special facilities for tourist and holiday travelling.

During the summer months the company made special provision to meet an unusually heavy tourist traffic. New services were put on, and existing services speeded up. A typical example of that was the first morning train from Cork to Dublin, which from Thurles was a non-stop, covering the 87 miles in 105 minutes.

TRAVELLERS' APPRECIATION.

The enterprise of the company was repaid by a good travelling season, and also by the appreciation of travellers. Time and again visitors from America informed the railway officials that in the matter of speed and comfort they were little, if anything, behind the United States. The grumbling and fault-finding of past years were replaced by the eucomiums of satisfied passengers. The catering department was praised all round, especially its splendid service of tea baskets. The management of the company is satisfied that the special effort to encourage travelling in Ireland will have a telling effect on the development of tourist traffic in the future.

With the passing of the season several trains have to be withdrawn and others re-arranged. As everyone knows the company must economise, and the new timetables show that the economy in train running is to be carried out with as little inconvenience to the public as possible. An example, taken at random, is the 4.25 p.m. train Kingsbridge to Thurles, which has been discontinued, but the service will be almost entirely retained by the former 5.15 p.m. train, which is now timed to leave Dublin at 5 o'clock. An important change is the altering of the 9.45 a.m. Kingsbridge to Cork to 9.30, to give a connection at Portarlington for Athlone. Another important change is made in the running of the 7.45 a.m. Cork to Dublin, which during the winter months will start at 8.0, and arrive at Kingsbridge at 1.5 p.m., instead of at 12.5 p.m., as at present.

For the most part, the changes are small alterations of starting times. In Kerry the Killarney tourist trains cease to run, but there is a useful new train leaving Tralee for Mallow at 9.55, giving connections to Valentia, Cork, and Dublin. From Valentia fish can now be despatched in the morning to reach Dublin at 5.15 p.m.

WESTERN AND EASTERN TRAINS.

In the Western district Sligo gains by the departure of the first train at 8.0 instead of at 8.45, with an extension to the Broadstone. To connect with this the first morning train from Cavan is timed for 9.35 instead of 10.30. This train will get travellers from beyond Mullingar to Dublin almost an hour earlier. On the Meath line the extra trains between Navan and Dublin on Thursdays and Saturdays are taken off.

In the Eastern district there is some retiming of the trains between Dublin and Bray. The Sunday morning train from Harcourt street to Wexford, with the return train at 6.15 p.m., will run only on the first Sunday of the month.

The policy of improving the accommodation for passengers on the old Dublin and South-Eastern line, already in operation, will be carried through until the carriages are as good as those on the Southern portion of the company's system.

The travelling public should note that the alterations which were published yesterday are almost all to an earlier hour.

TEACHERS TO BLAME

FAILURE OF TECHNICAL EDUCATION IN WICKLOW.

When returns showing results of examinations throughout the county were read at yesterday's meeting of County Wicklow Joint Technical Instruction Committee, Mr. J. Everett, T.D., remarked that the results were most unsatisfactory and discreditable to technical education. The whole system and conduct of the teachers should be inquired into.

The Chairman (the Rev. Canon Johnson) said that there was room for great improvements.

Mr. Pim said that there must be something radically wrong with a system when a person who got no marks in arithmetic could pass in bookkeeping.

Mr. Barrett, Inspector, said that they should consider the standard of pupil that entered the schools. He instanced a case of a girl, aged 15, who could not write her name or age, and said that the standard ranged from that type up to school children supposed to have passed the sixth standard, who could neither read nor write properly.

Mr. M. Fleming protested against this aspersion on the teachers of the county.

Mr. Barrett said that Mr. Fleming was mistaken. He mentioned that in earlier years in Baltinglass the standard was the finest that he had met with anywhere; but it had become deplorably bad, and last year it was shocking.

TO BE SOLD TO FINNS.

GERMAN SAILING SHIP IN DUBLIN PORT.

The German sailing vessel, the Selma Hemsoth, at present lying in the Alexandra Basin, Dublin, is to be sold, subject to examination, to a Finnish shipping company. She will be brought into dry dock in the course of a few days. The owners possess over a dozen large steamers, and are anxious to dispose of all the sailing boats in their service.

The Selma Hemsoth arrived in Dublin on August 20, with 3,063 tons of wheat, from Talcahuano, Chile, for consignment to Messrs. Figgis and Company, grain brokers, Dame street. The cargo has been discharged, and the crew of Germans, with the exception of the mate and two boys, has been paid off.

MEMORIALS DEDICATED.

At Abbeystrewry Church, Skibbereen, on the 23rd inst., in the presence of a large congregation, the Bishop of Cork dedicated various memorials.

To the memory of Lieutenant-Colonel Morgan, D.S.O., of Hollybrook and Bunalun—The chancel floor, steps, foot face for altar, and lectern, in Jeaune Jaspe and Silician marble, oak panelling and organ front, choir stalls and desks; the gift of his wife.

To the memory of William Connell—Baptistry and font, in Sicilian and alabaster, with oak panelling; the gift of his wife.

In memory of Lieutenant James Henry Bruce Levis, killed in action in Gallipoli—Alabaster pillars; the gift of his mother.

In memory of George M. Levis—Hymn board; the gift of his wife.

In memory of Nannie Wood—Font ewer and cherub bracket; the gift of her husband.

In memory of Hilda and George Whiteley—Font cover; the gift of "their friend."

In memory of Henry Thomas Baker Young, Royal Engineers, drowned in the Rhine—Reredos cresting and lectern rail; the gift of his mother.

CITY OF DUBLIN HOSPITAL.

The ninety-third report of the Royal City of Dublin Hospital states that the returns for 1924 show a further considerable increase in the work done by the various departments. More beds were opened, more in-patients were received, and more persons were treated in the several dispensaries. One hundred and thirty-four beds were available, and 1,614 patients were admitted to the hospital. Nearly 5,500 emergency and accident cases were dealt with. At the general and special dispensaries there were 2,000 more attendances than in 1923, the figures for this year being 17,585.

Eight hundred and forty-eight surgical operations were performed during the year.

BANK OF IRELAND CLERKSHIPS.
Candidates should note that at the last examination 34 of the 45 appointments offered were gained by pupils of Rosse College, Stephen's Green, Dublin.—(Advt.)

FERMANAGH POLICE INQUIRY.

SERGEANT ARRESTED BY CONSTABLES.

A two-day Court of Inquiry, which sat in Irvinestown Police Barrack, concluded on Wednesday. Constable Michael Ewings had eight charges preferred against him arising out of an alleged assault upon Sergeant Benson on the night of the 8th of September last. There were similar charges against Constable Agnew for aiding and abetting in the arrest of the sergeant. Both Constable Ewings and Sergeant Benson are old R.I.C. men. On the 8th of September there was an inquiry into a number of disciplinary charges against Sergeant Benson at the complaint of Constable Ewings, and the sergeant was honourably acquitted.

It appeared from the evidence that on the evening of the 8th of September there had been a robbery at Irvinestown fair, and Sergeant Benson and Constable Cameron were making inquiries. In the course of the inquiries they entered the licensed house of Peter Gallagher after 9 p.m. While they were there Constables Ewings and Agnew entered, and Constable Ewings insisted upon searching the premises. He asked the publican to account for the presence of Sergeant Benson. The sergeant sent for the District Inspector, and Constable Ewings continued his search, and it was said jostled the sergeant while doing so; at last placing him under arrest, as he alleged that he was obstructing him in the discharge of his duty. The constable accused the sergeant of being drunk, and said that he would put him where he would be cool in the lock-up.

When the sergeant said that he would see if the District Inspector said that he was drunk Ewings replied, "I will see that you are drunk." The two constables caught the sergeant's arms, twisted them behind his shoulders, and dragged him to the street, the publican stating, "You are brutes; it is a d—— shame." On the street a crowd had collected, and the constables brought the sergeant under arrest like an ordinary prisoner to the barrack. On the way he appealed to leading citizens to note what was taking place. When in the guardroom he was treated like an ordinary prisoner by the two constables, Constable Ewings snatching the telephone out of his hand when he went to use it. The sergeant handed his equipment to the guard, but would not allow Ewings to search him. When the District Inspector arrived he released the sergeant.

Several witnesses were examined in support of the charge, and all agreed that the sergeant was perfectly sober; also that the two constables were sober.

The Court consisted of Captain Murray, District Inspector, and Captain Robinson, District Inspector, and the finding will be announced in due course.

GUARDING THE CHILD.

PRECAUTIONS IN NORTHERN SCHOOLS.

"While the recent deplorable accident involving the death of a young child in a Belfast school, through the falling of a door in the playground, had not been attributed to the neglect of any individual, it serves to emphasise the need for the utmost care in the frequent and systematic examination of the premises, grounds and equipment, with a view to the discovery of defects which, if not properly remedied, may result in injury to life or limb."

The above passage occurs in a circular which has been addressed to all Northern education authorities by Mr. L. M'Quillan, Secretary to the Ministry of Education, at the direction of Lord Londonderry, calling their attention to the urgent necessity for taking such steps as may be necessary to secure that school premises and grounds are put in a condition which will ensure that there can be no avoidable risk of accident to the children in attendance at the schools.

Sufficent and easily accessible means of exit, the keeping open the doors during school hours, and keeping the stairs clear at all times, are the precautionary measures urged.

To minimise the risk of panic arising in case of fire the circular adds: all pupils should be disciplined to leave the schoolroom in prompt obedience to a given signal and in an orderly manner.

DID NOT CARE A BRASS BUTTON.

JUDGE AND AN APPEAL.

At Ballybot Quarter Sessions yesterday, Thomas Lowe, Cloghboge, Crossmaglen, an ex-Special constable, claimed £300 for personal injuries arising out of an alleged unlawful assembly at Newtownhamilton on the night of the 30th May last. The applicant's case was that he was "held up" by two uniformed constables and a civilian because he had not a light on his bicycle and was beaten and kicked. The defence was that there was a squabble between the applicant and Constable Watt, and that the applicant attempted to strike the constable.

The applicant alleged that he lost three teeth, a watch and a hat in the struggle.

The medical evidence showed that the injuries consisted of a bruise under the eye, in nowise dangerous.

Judge Green dismissed the claim as not coming within the Act and allowed costs.

Mr. Fisher, for the applicant, said that there would be an appeal.

His Honour replied that he "did not care a brass button whether there was or not, and never did."

MOTOR OBSTRUCTION FINE.

Lord Rossmore, Stud House, Hampton Court, Middlesex, who was represented by Mr. Green, of the Automobile Association, was, at Marlborough street Police Court, London, yesterday, fined 30s. for causing an unnecessary obstruction with a motor car at Rupert street on August 27.

Police Constable David Illsley stated that the car was there for two hours and twenty minutes.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS.

Sir A. Ernest Bain, K.B.E., who was the lay representative of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of England at the recent annual Conference of the Methodist Church in Ireland, has been elected, by a unanimous vote, Mayor of Harrogate for the ensuing year.

At the quarterly meeting of the Cork Circuit, Mr. H. M. Robertson was appointed senior circuit steward, in succession to the late Mr. R. L. Davidson, and Mr. S. A. Wolfe was appointed junior circuit steward.

CATHOLIC TRUTH CONFERENCE.

It has been represented to the Catholic Truth Society that the long standing and well-established practice in Ireland has been for clergy at social functions like the Conference to wear a tonsure coat, rather than soutane and feriola. The sole aim of the Cahtolic Truth Society, in referring to the matter of dress, is to ensure that the function shall be marked by all the dignity, modesty and simplicity of a great Catholic gathering. There are no obligatory regulations for any one. It is entirely a matter of individual wish and convenience, and the Society has no intention of asking those who have fallen in with the existing convention to make any change.

FLUKE DISEASE.

The Department of Lands and Agriculture earnestly requests all farmers to take steps without delay to guard against a recurrence of fluke in sheep and cattle during the coming months.

The Department has had printed a revised leaflet on fluke, giving instructions as to the periodic dosing of animals with the approved specific and as to feeding, spraying of infected lands, etc., to ensure against losses from this disease.

Copies of the leaflet can be procured, post free, on application to the Secretary, Department of Agriculture, Government Buildings, Dublin, as also particulars of the scheme under which assistance may be obtained from State funds, through the agency of co-operative credit societies, by farmers who have suffered serious losses of cattle through fluke disease. Letters containing applications need not be stamped.

DISCOVERY'S VOYAGE.

ECHO-SOUNDING GEAR TESTS.

The auxiliary vessel Discovery, which left Portsmouth last week on a voyage to the Antarctic regions, has put back to Falmouth. Captain Stenhouse, in an interview, stated that Admiralty representatives had been carrying out tests with echo-sounding gear at a depth of two thousand fathoms off Ushant, which proved very successful. After coaling the Discovery will leave for Las Palmas, and will make calls at Capetown and the Falkland Islands. Stores and mail will be landed at Tristan D'Acunda, and the voyage then will be continued into the Antarctic regions. Asked for a message, Captain Stenhouse said: "We are very cheerful and happy, and full of buck and bean. We are simply itching to get away."

ULSTER SOCIETY OF PAINTERS.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION.

The Ulster Society of Painters is giving its fifth annual exhibition in the Belfast Picture Gallery during the present month. The works on view number fifty-nine, and represent both art and water-colour paintings, the water-colours forming the greater part of the collection. Among the artists who contribute are Mr. David Gould, Mr. R. S. Randle Wood, Mr. John A. Park, Mr. A. R. Baker, Mr. Thomas J. Gracey, Mrs. E. D. Corry, Mr. Donald McPherson, Mr. James Hodgen, and Mr. J. Stanley Prosser. Both landscape and figure subjects are well represented, and the works generally attain a high level.

GUARD "LISTENS IN."

VIEWING BILLPOSTERS AND BIG BEN.

An argument, which arose between two billposters, one of whom had put up posters about the Senate election and the other placarded the "Ten Commandments," was mentioned at Longford District Court, when a man named McCarthy prosecuted a rival "artist" for using abusive language.

Guard Brennan deposed to having the argument between the parties. They were standing at Mr. Stafford's corner—

Mr. Delany, State Solicitor—Listening to his "broadcasting set"?

Guard Brennan—I cannot say.

Mr. Delany—About what hour?

The Guard—Almost nine; it had not struck.

Mr. Delany—And you were waiting for Big Ben to announce it on the wireless. (Laughter.)

Lally, the defendant, said that he had placed one board at Mr. Fitzgerald's corner before going over to put some streamers on the "Ten Commandments"—(loud laughter)—at the bridge for Mr. Stafford's cinema. When he came back he found that his board had been pitched on one side. He did not deny using an angry remark.

After consultation, the solicitors on both sides agreed to an adjournment of the case for three months, and Mr. Rice, District Justice, made it a rule of Court.

AEROPLANE MISHAP NEAR ST. ALBAN'S.

An Avro aeroplane attached to the 111th Squadron of the Royal Air Force at Duxford was obliged to land close to St. Alban's yesterday through engine trouble. A second machine made repairs, but when this machine attempted to rise the propeller struck some telegraph wires, breaking two. The plane was forced across the road, smashing telegraph wires on the opposite side, and then dropped in a field on its nose. The under carriage and propeller were smashed and the right wing was broken. The two occupants were only slightly injured.

SEIZED THREE YEARS AGO NEARING NEW YORK.

BRITISH SCHOONER DECLARED FORFEIT.

NEW YORK, Wednesday.

The British schooner Squanto has now passed to the ownership of the United States. The vessel was seized three years ago while she was approaching New York City with a cargo of liquor for the purpose of securing food and water. Prohibition agents, however, charged her with trying to dispose of her contraband liquors here.

Although she has been declared forfeit the vessel has so deteriorated that officials say she will be of little value to the Government. The delay in her case has been due to the overcrowded condition of the Prohibition Court.—(Reuter.)

NEW TECHNICAL SCHOOL.

South Tipperary Technical Committee has decided to build a technical school in Carrick-on-Suir. Carrick Town Council will give a site free, and levy a 2d. rate.

A BRUTAL OUTRAGE.

At Ballybo Quarter Sessions yesterday Judge Green awarded Mary Ann Quinn, Carrickbrood, £22 10s. damages for the "cutting out of the tongue" of her pony, which had to be destroyed in consequence.

ROSES LIKE SUMMER.
These warm days have brought out a show of flowers on the field of Roses at Messrs. Watson's Nurseries, Killiney, which rival the Summer display. This affords an opportunity of selecting varieties within a few weeks of the time for planting Rose Trees. Messrs. Watson's new Rose Catalogue is now ready and may be had post free.—(Advt.)

COURT IN "PIGSTY."

CO. LONGFORD JUSTICE'S PROTEST.

"This is the greatest disgrace I have ever experienced, that we should have a court under such circumstances. I make this public protest, and I certainly will refuse to come back here again unless proper provision is made for holding the Court in this important centre."

This protest was made by Mr. Rice, District Justice, at Granard on Tuesday, when a number of litigants were unable to get further than the foot of the stairs leading to the board room of Granard Workhouse, where an improvised Court was held, owing to contention between the Longford County Council and the Granard Urban Council in the matter of the rent of the court-house. The County Council refuses to pay £24 per annum, and offers £8, which the local council will not accept. Fully three months have passed since a District Court was held, and the only accommodation provided on this occasion was the board room of the old Workhouse, which is wholly inadequate.

Mr. Delany, State Solicitor, Longford, endorsing Mr. Rice's remarks, said, "I am very glad your worship has made the protest, as it is dangerous to health to sit here for several hours in this 'pigsty'—for i tis little better. It is not conducive to the proper administration of the law, and I, as a solicitor, certainly will not come back here until the Longford County Council provides proper accommodation for the holding of the Court.

Mr. Tierney, solicitor, Cavan, said that it was shocking that a Court should be held under such conditions.

LONDON THEATRES.

"FOLIES BERGERE REVUE" AT THE PALADIUM.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
LONDON, Wednesday.

The title, and two wonderfully agile dancers Les Germaines, are the Parisian touches in the "Folies Bergere Revue," produced in London, at the Palladium, to-night by Mr. Tom Arnold. True, Miss Jenny Golder sings chic songs in French, with a Cockney accent and a great deal of verve, and one or two of the sketches have French names, but otherwise this revue is like every other revue ever staged at the Palladium.

There are the usual sketches, songs, spectacular scenes, choruses and dances. Many of them are entertaining, a few are wearisome, and one or two of the songs distinctly vulgar. There are over forty scenes—most of them are magnificently dressed, and several really very beautiful and effective. "A Florentine Idyll" is picturesque and charmingly arranged, while "A Reception to Napoleon Bonaparte," with Robert Chisholm singing "La Reve Passe," was one of the successes of the evening.

It would also be difficult to imagine anything more interesting than the Nile scene, in which Bert Chisholm again triumphed—indeed, his singing was one of the features of the evening. Ernie Lotingar provided most of the fun, and he was undeniably amusing as "Private Josser," with a twin brother, in a sketch entitled "The Orderly Room." Other laughable numbers were "On the Emankment," "The Audition," and Steel and Winslow, a pair of clever skaters.

I think two sketches, "Unexpected Arrivals" and "Les Hommes et les Femmes," might well be deleted, as they are pointless and quite unfunny. The Folies Bergerie Girls—who are our old friends the Tiller Troupe—deserve special praise. They are smart—they can dance in absolute uniformity, and they work hard in splendid style throughout the entire show. A word must be added in commendation of Mr. Fred. Duprez, who madea capital, genial and witty compere.

The music was tuneful and the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Horace Sheldon, played well. The audience liked the revue, and, judging by the applause, the Palladium appear to have another winner.

ITALIAN STEAMER SUNK.

CREW'S BATTLE FOR LIFE IN HEAVY SEAS.

MALTA, Wednesday.

The captain and twenty-one of the crew of the Italian steamer Baccicini Serra arrived here yesterday evening in lifeboats in a very exhausted condition, their ship having been abandoned after springing a leak twenty-five miles south-east of Gozo on Monday. The vessel sank in very heavy seas, and the crew battled with the waves for thirty-five hours. The men are now being taken care of in King Edward's Rest Home.—(Reuter.)

THE LATE M. LEON BOURGEOIS.

PARIS, Wednesday.

The funeral of the late M. Léon Bourgeois, which will take place on Friday, will be of a national character, the remains being cremated at the Père Lachaise Cemetery.—(Reuter.)

A NEW IRISH JOURNAL.

"Irish Travel"—the official organ of the Irish Tourist Association—is the latest addition to the list of Irish monthly publications. It is a 24-page magazine, with cover in colours, and its contents are calculated to appeal to the general reader as well as to the holiday maker and those engaged in the catering and transportation industries. The magazine is profusely illustrated with pictures of Irish life and Irish scenery. It is well printed on good paper by Messrs. Alex. Thom and Co., Ltd.

Captain Amundsen lectured on his Polar flight in Edinburgh last night. Lord Salvesen, President of the Royal Scottish Geographical Society, presented Captain Amundsen with the Livingstone Gold Medal, the highest award of the Society. Captain Amundsen told a graphic story of his escape from death.

GOLF.

A THRILLING FINAL.

WALLACE WINS AT THE 36TH

UNUSUAL INCIDENTS.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.
CORK, Wednesday Night.

Leo Wallace, of the Ormeau Club, won the 36 holes final for the prize presented by the Cork Examiner at the Little Island course to-day, defeating Dan Murray, of Skerries, on the last green by 1 up.

It was perhaps the best final which has been decided in the country for years. Under the new scheme for fixing scratch scores for courses adopted by the Joint Advisory Committee of the Royal and Ancient Committee, the scratch score for the Little Island course will be either 77 or 78, but this morning Wallace had the remarkable figures of 69. It is true that all putts were not holed, but there were few of more than a foot or two which were not holed.

At the end of the first nine, Wallace held a lead of 3 holes. The Skerries man had reduced the leeway to one hole at the eighteenth, having come home in level 4's for eight holes, with a 2 at the fourteenth. After being 3 down at the sixth on the second round, Murray squared at the ninth, took the lead for the first time in the match at the eleventh, lost it again through being disqualified at the next hole, went ahead once more at the fifteenth, and suffered defeat only at the thirty-sixth. It was a fitting termination to a remarkably successful tournament, which is certain to do a good deal to popularise the game in Cork.

The fortunes of the players fluctuated all day. The figures for the morning round were:—

Wallace—Out—4 5 3 3 5 4 3 4 3—33
In—5 4 5 3 4 4 3 4 4—36

Total 69

Murray—Out—4 6 3 5 5 3 4 6 3—39
In—4 4 4 2 4 4 4 4 4—34

Total 73

Incidents at the tenth and eleventh holes formed not the least interesting features of the day. At the tenth Wallace had the good fortune to lay a stymie. Murray failed to loft it, and Wallace appealed, contending that the ball had rolled over before the actual shot was played, and that consequently Murray had played an extra stroke. Murray stated that was not the case, and as the referee's view had been obstructed, he had no option but to give Murray the benefit of the doubt. The hole was halved. At the next hole, however, the referee disqualified Murray for brushing the line of his short putt for the half with his putter, on the ground that there was nothing between the ball and the hole to justify him in using the putter in the way he did.

The play in the evening was begun with two halves in 4's. Through pulling his second to the fourth, Murray lost the hole, and at the fifth Wallace rammed down a twelve-yarder for the win in 3. That gave him a lead of three holes. The sixth was halved, and then came a change. Murray took the seventh in 3, and, following a topped drive and a third out of bounds at the eighth, Wallace gave up. At the ninth Murray got a long putt down for a 2, to square. Wallace, from the rough, topped his brassey and lost the eleventh, but he squared at the twelfth, where his opponent was disqualified. The short thirteenth was halved, but Murray holed from the fifteenth for a 3 and the lead. When Wallace had a 3 at the sixteenth it was anyone's match. The seventeenth was halved, and then came a breakdown on the part of Murray. From the second shot Wallace reached the middle of the green, but Murray was very timid with his and too far with the next, and the hole and match was won by the Ulster man, whose most effective shot was the full shot with the mashie-niblick. The figures for the second round were:—

Wallace—Out—4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 (picked up) 3.
In—5 6 4 3 5 5 4 3 4 4.
Murray—Out—4 4 4 5 5 4 3 (not played out) 2.
In—5 5 (disqualified) 3 5 3 4 4 5.

Result:—Leo Wallace (Ormeau) beat D. Murray (Skerries), 1 up.

R.A.F. CHAMPIONSHIP.

Squadron-Leader C. H. Hayward yesterday won the Royal Air Force Championship for the fifth successive year, when the event was concluded at Camberley Heath. In the final he was opposed to Flight-Lieutenant Fawcus, and the latter held the ultimate winner fairly well during the first round, at the end of which Hayward had a lead of one. Then for three holes in the afternoon Fawcus kept that state of affairs, but after Hayward had held a lead of five holes at the turn in the second round he won two of the next three holes, and the Championship by 7 and 6.

LADIES' AUTUMN FOURSOMES.

Miss Joyce Wethered (Worplesdon) and Miss Cecil Leitch (Carlisle and Silloth) will again be in one field on the occasion of the Ladies' Autumn Foursomes, at Ranelagh, on October 13th and following days. Miss Wethered will have as partner Miss Maud Hunnewell (Sunningdale), an Anglo-American player, and they will be at handicap 1, while Miss Leitch's partner will be Miss Elsie Grant-Suttie (Sunningdale), the former British champion. The latter couple are rated at plus 1, which is the back mark. They are in the second quarter of the top half of the draw, while Miss Wethered and her partner are in the last quarter of that section.

Other interesting partnerships will be:—Mrs. Cuthell (Royal Portrush), the former British champion, and Miss Heming Johnson (Littlehampton), 16; Miss Janet Jackson, the Irish champion, and Mrs. King (Island, Malahide), 10; Mrs. Alan Macbeth (Bowdon) and Miss Doris Chambers (Wirral), the ex-British champions, 6; Mrs. Percy Alnmouth (Northumberland) and Miss W. Strain (Turnberry), 14, and Miss P. Colgrave (Sunningdale) and Miss D. Hartill (Copt Heath), 8, last year's winners.

AMERICAN LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP.

ST. LOUIS, Wednesday.

Mrs. Hurd, the holder, was beaten in the second round of the American Ladies' Championship here to-day by Mrs. Letts, by 4 and 2.

ROYAL AND ANCIENT AUTUMN MEETING.

With time-honoured ceremony Mr. Edward Blackwell yesterday played himself into the captaincy of the Royal and Ancient Club at St. Andrews. The sounding of the old gun in the vicinity of the clubhouse signalised the retirement of the reigning captain, Mr. James Younger, and the coming into office of Mr. Blackwell. As usual, there was a huge avenue of spectators, but it was notable that on this occasion Mr. Blackwell's golf reputation was such as to cause the avenue to be longer. To right and left of the fairway the spectators stretched to the precincts of the famous Swilcan Burn, and, as had been expected, he hit his ball well and truly. There was the usual scramble for the ball, and it was taken possession of by "Dave" Herd, a cousin of the more famous "Sandy." According to usage he restored the ball to the new captain, and was handed the customary reward of a golden sovereign.

The Result of the day's play was that Cyril Tolley, J. W. Jeffrey and J. R. Pelham-Burn tied for the King William IV. and Club Gold Medals at 74, while Tolley won the George Glennie Medal for spring and autumn meeting scores. His rounds were 72 at the spring meeting and 74 yesterday, and his aggregate of 146 is the lowest record to date in the Glennie Medal competition. The re-play for the King William IV. and Gold Medals will be carried through to-day.

J. W. Jeffrey won the Silver Boomerang, presented by the Royal Queensland Club, for the best return under handicap with 74 (3), 71. The leading scratch returns were as follows:—J. W. Jeffrey, J. R. Pelham-Burn and C. J. H. Tolley, 74; F. M. Richardson and Edward Blackwell, 77; S. C. Wyatt, Robert Harris and F. Roosevelt Scovel, 78; W. L. Carlow, Walter Blackwell, G. Miller, R. G. O. Hutchison, Captain A. Gordon Barry, J. S. F. Morrison and H. E. Taylor, 79.

CARRICKMINES.—Saturday next—Open men's foursomes (strokes); prizes presented by the club. Prize for best gross. Post entries.

HOWTH.—Saturday next—Seventh qualifying round for club Cup; last draw off 2.5 p.m. train. Match between captain's and secretary's teams will be played on Saturday, October 31st, instead of October 24th. The match will be followed by annual club dinner at the Claremont Hotel, Howth. Ladies' Branch—September medal (bogey) won by Miss Alderson. Mrs. C. Lee and Miss L. Magwood qualified.

IRISH RAILWAY CLEARING HOUSE.

At a meeting of the Irish Railway Clearing House Committee held at 5 Kildare street, Dublin, yesterday, Mr. W. P. Cairnes was unanimously elected Chairman of the Committee, in place of the late Right Hon. Sir William J. Goulding, Bart.

U.S. MARKETS.

MONEY ADVANCES TO 6 PER CENT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)
NEW YORK, Wednesday.

Stocks opened strong, but there were subsequent wide cross-currents. Standard shares were weak owing to the 6 p.c. money rate, renewed cautionary advices from commission houses and liquidations of certain Industrials and specialties, a result of the sharp downward revision in value of this collateral in bank loans, due to their recent sensational advances. Pools, however, succeeded in forcing many stocks temporarily higher, especially Baking issues and United Fruit, which shares advanced 5 to 8 points. All broke severely later, when high-priced Industrials declined violently, and General Electric fell 8, and Dupont Common, Chrysler Motor and American Can 5 to 7 points. There were late advances in American International of 4 points, New York Canners 7, and Distillers' Products Prefd. 9, but the market closed heavy. Government Bonds steady; Railroad Bonds irregular. The day's sales totalled 1,750,000 shares.

Money on call closed strong at 6 p.c. bid and 6¼ p.c. asked. Business done during the day ranged from 5½ p.c. to 6 p.c., with the ruling rate 5½ p.c. The last transaction was at 6 p.c. Sterling exchange steady. Silver ½c. higher at 71.

During this week silver to the value of 1,162,000 dollars has been consigned to India. Gold to the value of 150,000 dollars has been engaged for export to Singapore.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Wednesday.

WHEAT opened firm, ⅛c. to ⅜c. higher, on reports that a half of the Argentine crop is of poor quality, and further advances took place owing to advices of snow in the Canadian North-west, decreased interior receipts, commission house buying, a milling demand, active covering of September contracts, and large seaboard clearances. PROVISIONS opened easy, and prices drooped under liquidation, a disappointing cash demand, and the scarcity of buyers. The market continued to weaken, in sympathy with the reaction of grain, also on commission houses selling and stop loss orders; and closed weak, with lard 42½ to 55 and ribs 35 points down. Lard, spot, 16.65.

Receipts—Western Cities	95,000	76,000
Chicago	15,000	18,000

The receipts of hogs at 18 principal Western centres, including Chicago, since 1st March (amended) total 15,443,000, against 19,478,000 same season last year.

WHEAT BASIS CHANGE.

As from October 1st, the Chicago Board of Trade will change the basis for wheat to be delivered under future contracts, readjusting the premiums and discounts for various grades. The changes will principally affect No. 2 and No. 3 Northern spring wheat, which will receive a lower grading. In consequence of these changes, trading after to-day will be both the old and new contracts. The new contract prices will be given in the daily service.

CANADIAN BANK ROBBERY

TRAPPED BY TYRONE MAN.

Details have been received at Omagh of a struggle between Mr. A. A. Wilson, a County Tyrone man, who holds the appointment of manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Vancouver, and a bank raider, who "held up" Mr. Wilson and his staff at the point of two revolvers.

The bandit gained access to the bank during the night, secreted himself in the manager's office, and when the staff arrived and the vault was opened made his appearance.

Mr. Wilson and his assistants were forced into the vault, and the manager was ordered to open the safe, which contained a large amount of money. Mr. Wilson informed the raider that he could not open the safe, as it was a time lock, and the raider then decided to wait till 10 o'clock, and kept the staff "covered" in the interval. Mr. Wilson, saying, "Excuse me, I want something out of that drawer," stepped towards the vault door, and before the bandit could stop him sprang forward, slammed the door, and rushed to the telephone to call the police.

The robber, maddened by the manner in which he had been thwarted, shot wildly at the lock until his revolvers were empty.

At the trial the bandit, whose name was Fred Campbell or Joseph Leonard, of no fixed address, was sentenced to seven years in a penitentiary.

The attempted robbery is regarded by the Canadian police as one of the most daring in local crime annals, and the bank manager becomes entitled to the standing reward of five thousand dollars offered by the Canadian Bankers' Association for the capture of a bank bandit.

Mr. Wilson is the son of Mrs. Coulter, Trillick, County Tyrone, and a grandson of the late Mr. Armer-Alcorn, Longhmuck, Omagh.

HANGED IN KITCHEN.

FATE OF COUNTY DONEGAL FARMER.

A verdict of suicide by hanging during temporary insanity was the verdict returned at an inquest held on Tuesday in Letterkenny touching the death of Neil Murray (28), farmer, Currin, Kilmacrenna, Co. Donegal.

Daniel Murray, a neighbour, last saw deceased alive on Sunday.

Finding the door of his house locked inside he put his child through the window. She exclaimed, "God bless us," and screamed. He looked through and saw deceased hanging from a kitchen rafter.

It was stated that deceased had been peculiar in his manner.

TIPPERARY COUNTY HOME.

QUESTION OF LOCATION.

The question of the location of the County Home was before a special meeting of South Tipperary Board of Health yesterday. A deputation from Clonmel, Kilcash, Carrick-on-Suir and other districts appeared in favour of having the County Home located at Clonmel. The Mayor (Mr. J. Reidy), Mr. O'Gorman and Mr. Berkery (Town Clerk) spoke in favour of Clonmel, and Mr. W. Frewen, solicitor, in favour of Tipperary. The Right Rev. Dean Ryan advocated its retention in Cashel.

The total estimate of the architects (Messrs. Foley and O'Sullivan) to make workhouses suitable for the County Home were—Cashel, £11,103; Clonmel, £9,831, and Tipperary, £13,946.

Mr. Tobin proposed, and Mr. Cronin seconded, that the County Home should be in Clonmel, and that the County Council should be requested to alter the scheme accordingly.

Mr. O'Connell proposed, and Mr. English seconded, that the County Home should be retained at Cashel.

On a poll the voting was equal.

The Chairman gave his casting vote for Mr. O'Connell's resolution, which was declared carried.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

LIFE IN THE FREE STATE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I should like to endorse the excellent letter from Mr. R. W. Coates in your issue to-day. It is quite a mistake to suppose that we have democratic government in Ireland at present. We are ruled by a clique, composed of the more moderate element of Sinn Féin. At the general election the only question before the electors was Free State or Republic. The great majority voted for the Free State, considering that this was the only alternative to chaos and anarchy, and the Government, having got their majority, are able to use it for any purpose they please. They have no mandate from the electors for compulsory Gaelic, the establishment of an Irish Medical Register or Protection.

It seems to me that what is needed is the formation of a new party composed of ex-Unionists, former constitutional Nationalists and business men, who are all very much in agreement. Such a party would constitute a constitutional Opposition and an alternative Government, whose policy would be to assert for Ireland her full share in her privileges and responsibilities as a constituent part of the British Commonwealth, to cultivate the friendliest relations with England compatible with national independence, to maintain loyalty to the Crown, to practise strict economy and generally to prefer commonsense to sentiment. If a strong man, with the instincts of a statesman, were to appear, who would develop a party on such lines, I believe that he would obtain great support throughout the country. The Irish people are always more ready to follow leaders than policies.—Yours, etc.,

"PRO PATRIA."

PROMOTION OF TILLAGE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The following experience may be interesting in connection with increased tillage and Customs delays. Early in August I broke a piston of an agricultural tractor, and, though the harvest was over three weeks off, I wrote at once to the makers in England for a new one. It was sent on August 14th and arrived in Dublin on the 15th. After about three weeks, during which time I had asked help from the Departments of Agriculture and of Industry and Commerce, I was asked for £1 12s. duty. As I had arranged to borrow a binder (with horses), of which there are many idle round here, I wrote remonstrating about the illegal demand. I was told that I should pay the duty and claim it back by proving that the part could be used for no other purpose than agriculture. I refused to pay, and there it is still in the London, Midland and Scottish warehouses. I shall not want it any more, any way.—Yours, etc.,

"A FARMER."

LICENSED PROPERTY SALE.

Two important lots of property are announced in our auction columns for sale to-morrow at 1.30 o'clock at No. 10 Lower Ormond quay. They consist of the premises Nos. 11 and 12 South Richmond street, Dublin, which are described as "an unique licensed premises," which have been recently rebuilt, and possess many advantages, especially an excellent business position; and the old-established premises of the firm of William Murphy and Son, corner of Market square and Barrack street, Tullow, County Carlow. This property has also been recently rebuilt at considerable cost, and is one of the most imposing and best situated business premises in the town of Tullow. Both lots are very attractive, and it is expected that they will change ownership at reasonable figures.

ASTRONOMICAL NOTES FOR OCTOBER.

THE SPIRAL NEBULÆ.

(FROM OUR ASTRONOMICAL CORRESPONDENT.)

THE PLANETS:—

Mercury is in superior conjunction on the 7th, and out of the observer's reach all the month. Venus may possibly be seen low in the S.W. after sunset near the end of October, but she sets about 6.30 p.m. Indeed, she sets earlier by twenty minutes at the end of the month than at the beginning owing to her increasing south declination. Mars rises in the early morning twilight, for all practical purposes invisible. Jupiter is the only conspicuous planet at present, and he sets soon after 10 p.m. in the beginning of the month and at 8.30 p.m. at the end. He is conspicuous to the eye in the S.W. during the evening hours, but is no use in the telescope owing to his low altitude. Saturn is too close to the Sun to be visible.

Planets are altogether off the observing list, and the amateur telescopist must find some other class of object to occupy his autumn evenings. Fortunately the Moon is never long absent from the evening sky, and she is the most spectacular and interesting of the heavenly bodies to a small instrument, as well as the least exacting to a telescope of only middling quality.

PHASES OF THE MOON FOR OCTOBER:—

Full Moon (Harvest Moon) on the 2nd at 5.23 a.m.
Last Quarter on the 9th at 6.34 p.m.
New Moon on the 17th at 6.6 p.m.
First Quarter on the 24th at 6.38 p.m.
Full Moon on the 31st at 5.17 p.m.

The best times for telescopic views of the Moon in the month will be from the 3rd to the 11th, when the waning Moon is still rising before midnight, and from the 22nd to the 30th. In the earlier period a view will be obtained of the Moon's evening, or sunset, terminator—that is to say, that line on her surface along which the Sun is then setting. At other times of year this can only be obtained by sitting up till after midnight or rising very early in the morning, which the non-professional astronomer is not usually prepared to do. It can be done at the time of Harvest Moon, when the Moon continues to rise at an early hour in the evening till near her last Quarter, without trenching unduly on the average man's hours of rest.

The telescopic view of the waning Moon is of interest, because all the shadows are reversed and familiar objects take on an unusual appearance. Some things may be also well seen which are difficult or altogether invisible at lunar sunrise. The great crater of Petavius, for example, contains a cleft which appears as a black line at sunrise but a white one at sunset. Another object well seen three days after Full Moon is the Great Valley of Rheita, an extraordinary cut, upwards of 500 miles in length, which strongly suggests that the Moon suffered a glancing blow from an enormous meteorite. Take a stone from a heap of freshly broken road-metal and draw it along a two-pound pat of butter, and you will have an excellent imitation on a small scale of the Great Valley of Rheita. To mould imitation lunar craters in plasticine, light them from different angles, and photograph them would be very educational exercise for ingenious young telescopists. If good enough to turn into lantern slides, the photos would soon form an excellent collection for a lecture—"The Moon in a Small Telescope."

THE STARS.

At midnight on the 1st, 11 p.m. on the 15th, 10 p.m. on the 30th.

On the meridian are Cassiopeia overhead, Andromeda, Pisces and Cetus. Pegasus, conspicuous by its great square, fills much of the sky immediately to the west of the meridian. Cygnus, Lyra and Aquila, the last beginning to set, are in the west and north-west. On the very rim of the S.W. horizon, if the sky is very clear, may be seen the bright star Fomalhaut, pointed to by the western side of the Great Square. The three great white stars, Vega, Deneb and Altair, are easily picked out by their lustre in the west.

East of the meridian the sky is brilliant with the opening procession of the winter stars. Orion has just risen, "rejoicing as a giant to run his course." The Pleiades and Hyades go before him, recalling as they did to men four thousand years ago, a flock of doves and a troop of wild pigs fleeing before the "Mighty Hunter"; for that is what their names really mean. Above is Capella, and to Orion's rear, in the N.W., are Castor and Pollux, standing vertically one above the other. The Great Bear occupies most of the space between the Pole and the Northern Horizon.

THE SPIRAL NEBULÆ.

This is a good time of year for making acquaintance with the Great Nebula in Andromeda, an object which is attracting a good deal of attention in the scientific world at present. Some little distance above the second magnitude star, Beta Andromedæ, on a clear, dark night, the eye catches a faint smudge of light. This is the great Nebula in Andromeda, next to the Great Nebula in Orion the brighest object of the kind in the Northern Hemisphere. It is, however, of a totally different nature from that in Orion. The latter is a mass of glowing gas. The former is a whole universe of stars, all of them suns, with all that that implies of circulating systems of worlds, many of them, doubtless, abodes of life. Turn the telescope on the little cloudlet of light, and look at it carefully. A small telescope will show it quite well. Observers of the eighteenth century compared it to a candle shining through horn. It brightens rapidly to the centre, where it is difficult to persuade oneself that a star is not visible. In fact, some years ago a fairly bright star did appear suddenly in the centre of it, and after shining for some time disappeared.

Other temporary stars, or Novæ, as they are called, have appeared in other parts of the nebula at various times. By comparing the brightness of these Novæ with those which have appeared in our own star system the conclusion has been reached that this object is distant from us by the staggering figure of nearly a million light-years, and that its diameter is of the order of 100,000 light-years. It is, in fact, another universe. We have, in ascending order, Other Worlds than Ours (the planets), Other Suns than Ours (the stars), and Other Universes than Ours (the Spiral Nebulæ). Many thousands of these objects are now known. Close to the Andromeda Nebula is another, in the little constellation of Triangulum, just below. This is even bigger in extent on the face of the sky than its neighbour in Andromeda, but it is not nearly so bright. It cannot be seen by the naked eye, but a small telescope will show it easily.

Beta Trianguli is the fourth star in the lozenge-shaped figure formed by the stars Beta and Gamma Andromedæ, and Algol, the variable star in Perseus with the sinister Arabic name; for Algol means "The Demon." You will see the little triangle all right. It is very acute-angled, and Alpha Trianguli is the acute point. Sweep along the line joining it with Beta Andromedæ, and the nebula will soon "swim into your ken." 33 Messier is its catalogue name. It is as big as the Full Moon in sky area, but so faint as to be hardly visible in even a fairly large telescope. But the photographic plate makes an amazing revelation of it—great spiral arms widely flung, dotted with knots and clusters of light, another universe again. The fact seems to be that our own universe, with its upwards of 1,000,000,000 stars and their attendant planets, is a "Spiral Nebula," and all the Spiral nebulæ—of which some 20,000 are known, and fresh ones are being discovered every day—are separate universes. For this knowledge we are indebted to the camera and the spectroscope almost equally. The former brings into sight these feeble glimmers of light which elude even a giant telescope, and the latter analyses their light and tells us that it is the light of stars, and not of gas.

We recognise three classes of nebulæ, so called. There are: (a) The diffused gaseous nebulæ, such as the Great Nebula in Orion, the "Crab" Nebula in Taurus and the "Keyhole" Nebula in Argo, in the Southern Hemisphere; ()b the planetary nebulæ, also wholly gaseous, but small and round like the disc of a planet, and (c) the Spiral nebulæ. Of these, the first two belong to our own universe or starry system, and are distant not more than from 20,000 to 50,000 light-years, whereas the last are at least fifty times as far off and are universes on the scale of our own. Great, then, as the Great Nebula in Orion is, it is only a member of our own star system, and as much inferior in size and importance to the Andromeda Nebula and its kind as the Earth is inferior to the Sun.

Strictly, the word nebula, which means a cloudlet, is only applicable to the gaseous bodies; but it was first applied, in the infancy of the telescope, to objects which appeared cloudlike to the feeble instruments of that day. It is only within the past half-century that it has been definitely proved that some of these cloudy-looking objects are really clouds of gas, while others are clusters of stars, too distant for the eye or the telescope to distinguish them as such.

"LIFE DESPAIRED OF"
As a child, before taking Virol, W. Coppin's life was despaired of. He is now a remarkable example of Virol's bone and muscle-building properties.

Same boy a year old

After Virol

School Children need Virol

The remarkable influence of Virol on growing tissues is shown in the above case. Virol builds bone and muscle, restores waste, and strengthens the constitution. Virol gives School Children increased strength to resist the dangers of the coming Winter. Give your child Virol regularly, especially when epidemics are about.

VIROL

It is much more economical to buy Virol in the larger sizes; thus the 3/9 jars equal two and a half 2/- jars; and the Family Size (½ gallon) at 15/- is the most economical of all.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

BETTING RAID.

SHOT STOPS 70 FUGITIVES.

(BEFORE MR. COLLINS.)

Laurence Bissett, described as a betting man, and living in Irishtown road, was fined £8 for having used the Shamrock Rovers' hall, 41 Thorncastle street, Ringsend, for the purpose of betting.

Police witnesses gave evidence of a raid on the hall. When they alighted from a motor car the door was closed and bolted against them. They ran through the kitchen of the house next door, jumped over the back wall and entered the hall. While they were getting into the premises between sixty and seventy men, including the defendant, escaped from the hall.

One of the policemen, Guard Kelly, fired a shot in the air in order to stop the men, and they were brought back into the hall. In the large room there the police found a pay-out book, with Bissett's name on it, betting dockets and racing papers scattered about. Two betting boards were erected in a room, with the prices marked opposite the names of the horses running in England that day.

The defendant said that he was merely assisting another man, who was fined £10 on the previous evening for betting in the same premises.

MOTORIST "PERSECUTED."

Charles E. Taylor, manufacturers' agent, Hawkins street, was fined £3 for driving a motor car at a speed and in a manner dangerous to the public on the 3rd inst. at Northumberland road.

Guard Mulvihill said that the defendant ignored a signal to stop, cut out on his right, and escaped running into a lorry by inches only. The defendant told him that he did not see the signal.

The defendant, giving evidence, said that he was not going at more than ten miles an hour. He kept behind the lorry and did not break any regulations. This, he added, was "persecution, not prosecution."

Mr. Collins—You are a martyr?

Defendant—I am another victim of the Free State extortion. (Laughter.)

WITHOUT A LABEL.

A fine of £2 was imposed on Patrick J. Kelly, shopkeeper, Rathmines road, for exposing for sale a parcel of margarine without having a proper label attached to it.

The defendant said that he had returned to the Free State only recently, and was not aware of the regulations.

ALLEGED ARMED ROBBERY.

(BEFORE MR. CUSSEN.)

John Dennis, labourer, Townsend street, was remanded until to-morrow, charged with taking part in an armed robbery.

Joseph Reid, a van driver, employed by Messrs. O'Rourke, bakers, gave evidence that between 5 and 6 p.m. on 14th August last he was driving to the city and was near the Crescent, Clontarf, when two men with revolvers held him up, one of them (the prisoner), who seemed to be the leader, saying: "Get down or we will blow your brains out." The second man, at the order of the prisoner, searched the witness. Both then took the bag from his shoulder and removed from it £3 in notes and £1 in silver and coppers. The prisoner then ordered him to go up Malahide road.

There were four other men on bicycles some distance away, apparently on the look-out for the police.

WOMEN'S COMPLAINT.

A further remand was granted in the charge of assault brought against Michael Sullivan, East Arran street; Patrick Brennan, Francis street; Christopher Reilly, Halston street; Michael Curran, Bedford street (all labourers); James Poutch, East Arran street; George Poutch, Christchurch place (motor drivers), and Peter Murphy, Harcourt road (horse dealer). They were accused of having, between 9 and 10 o'clock on the 20th inst., at Lower road, Lucan, assaulted two married women, named Nellie Watling and Agnes Lambert, Kelly's cottages, James's street, by forcibly removing them from a trap, the property of the defendant Murphy.

Mrs. Watling said that she was not quite sober at the time she made a statement to the police, and denied identifying at the Bridewell the three men who attacked her. She identified them as three men who were present.

Sergeant Byrne stated that Mrs. Lambert, when she went to make the complaint, had a black eye; her arms were black and blue, and she seemed in a very dazed condition. Mrs. Watling also had marks on her arms.

Mrs. Lambert said that she was assaulted by the whole crowd, except Murphy, who tried to save her.

TWO MONTHS FOR LARCENY.

Christopher Murphy, labourer, Donohoe street, was sentenced to two months' hard labour for the larceny of two pairs of boots. There was a further charge of stealing £1 1s. 1d. in coppers from a gas meter in the house in which he lodged.

ANOTHER'S MOTOR LICENCE.

William O'Connor, motor driver, Oxmantown road, off North Circular road, was remanded in custody on the charges of stealing from a motor car at the Dublin Taxi Company's premises an Excise licence and nickel holder, the property of Dr. Healy, Trinity College, Dublin, and fraudulently using them on a motor car which he drove through Parkgate street.

DUBLIN COAL DISPUTE.

The situation in regard to the dispute in the Dublin coal trade remains unchanged. The coal merchants are in no hurry at the moment to take on extra men. They state that there are plenty of volunteers, but that in future it is intended to engage none other than really competent and experienced men.

Acute Gastritis Gets a Knock-out

Mr. Arthur E. Roots, of West Croydon, writes:—"Discharged from His Majesty's Forces with acute gastritis, I was left with a very weak inside, and those who suffer similarly know how very careful one must be in what they eat and what medicines they take. Constipation and indigestion generally commenced my attacks: headaches and bad breath naturally followed; but to-day I am able to eat anything I fancy. My friends are astounded at my recovery; my secret, I can honestly recommend, lies in Carter's Little Liver Pills." They are unequalled for removing poisons from the system. Millions have recommended them for rheumatism—as they are free from calomel, mercury and other crude drugs which are poison and affect the bones. The Genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills sold by all Chemists in 1/3 phials only.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE

THE SALES.

A DAY OF CLOSE FINISHES.

MOTI MAHAL HARD PRESSED.

SOSIE UNPLACED.

(FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.)

NEWMARKET, Wednesday Night.

Things were rather dull and lifeless at the yearling sales in Park Paddocks this morning, and Mr. Tattersall, Mr. Deane, and Mr. Needham were hard pressed coaxing bids from reluctant purchasers; but they brightened very swiftly when the five yearlings from the National Stud, which were not sent up in July, came into the ring. The first was a very grand, if not a big, own brother of Blandford, and the bidding did not stop for him until Mr. Lambton went to 6,500 gns. to secure him. Next came the grey Son-in-Law colt out of the Tetrarch mare, Cinderella, and for him Sir Abe Bailey paid 5,000 gns. Mr. Bellaney, usually a seller instead of a buyer, took the half-sister by Swynford to Poisoned Arrow for 1,200 gns. The five yearlings made an average of 2,760 gns., and, as at Doncaster, the best prices were made by Irish-bred animals. The only other notable sale of the morning was the 5,100 gns. made by a colt by Gay Crusader out of Sundrilla from the Overtown Stud.

The heat was such as we expect at midsummer when racing began under perfect conditions this afternoon. Seldom, if ever, has there been at Newmarket such a sustained run of close finishes as that which we saw to-day, for after Jess had won the opening selling race by four lengths and two lengths from Sun Up and Hand from Heaven, the other six events were won either by short heads or necks. Further, in a couple of races there were short heads or heads between three or four of the runners-up.

The first of these close finishes was in the Hopeful Stakes, in which a highly-tried newcomer from the Stockbridge stable, Rosehearty, was as good a favourite as the proven public performer, Moti Mahal. This did not prevent the latter from winning, but she had all her work cut out to get up. However, she did get up to win by a neck and a short head from Waterval and Herbalist, with the well-backed Booklet fourth. Indeed, so close was the finish between the four that many people thought Booklet, whom the judge did not even place, had won. Rosehearty ran very green.

Melon's Narrow Win.

The next two-year-old event was the Linton Stakes, and there were five concerned in the finish, Melon beating Grey Twinkle by a short head, and then at intervals of a head came Plimsoll, Charm colt and Zenobia. This race was interesting from the fact that neither the winner nor the second had ever run before. Both had high home reputations, however, and they started first and second favourites, there being next to nothing to choose between them in the market. Melon was bought at the late Sir Edward Hulton's sale, and Grey Twinkle was bought out of Mr. Bellamy's lot at Doncaster.

Later came the Boscawen Stakes, also for two-year-olds, and here Apple Sammy only managed to squeeze home a neck in front of Helter Skelter. Apple Sammy had run second to Coronach in the Champion Stakes at Doncaster, with a field of very smart youngsters behind him, and the form seemed good enough to win this race easily. As a matter of fact, although the whip was not used on him, he was all out to beat Helter Skelter. Short Story, who was well beaten by Legionnaire yesterday, beat Helter Skelter in a canter at Sandown, and Lord Derby's colt has either come on tremendously since he was well beaten at Goodwood or else Apple Sammy did not run up to his form. He had the greatest difficulty here in shaking off Helter Skelter.

Congo Disappoints.

Neither Dawson City nor Jarvie was started for the Great Eastern Handicap, in which Congo was made favourite, but cut an indifferent figure. He was always being well held by Fairy Elf on the stands' side of the course. Morals of Marcus, however, was ahead of Fairy Elf two furlongs from home, and the likely winner then looked to be Fitzroy, on the far side of the course. Capture Him soon came at him, and got up to beat him by a neck, while Morals of Marcus deadheated with him for second place. Capture Him, who never looked so well this season as he did to-day, had good form in Ireland before he was bought at the December Sales last year for 2,300 guineas by Lord Glanely. This was the first race he had won for his present owner.

A mile and a half race here is not the sort in which one usually expects to find finishes of heads and necks, but Mafoota only won the Newmarket October Handicap by a neck and a head from St. Napolean and Baton Rouge, while the unlucky Shining Spear was only just beaten out of a place. The disappointment of this race was the well-backed Sosie, who was never conspicuous and finished at the rear of the field. The King's Cesarewitch horse, London Cry, looked like coming away at the Bushes, but he died out very suddenly, as if he were still short of work. Still, he ran well enough to give him some sort of chance in the Cesarewitch, if he stays the distance.

Baton Rouge went to the front in the Dip, but he has only one pace, and the successful boy, Kirby, inducing Mafoota to pull out a bit extra, she came again and beat him; but St. Napolean was running on strongly at the finish and is evidently a fine stayer. Only Baton Rouge of the placed horses is engaged in the Cesarewitch.

The Most Exciting Finish.

Perhaps the most exciting event of the day was the last race, for the Triennial Produce Stakes. The jockey on the favourite, Bucellas, looked round at the Bushes and found to his apparent surprise that Joy Rider was at his withers. Then ensued a protracted tussle, of which Joy Rider was getting the better until he swerved close home. Even then Bucellas only beat him by a short head.

There will be a good race to-morrow for the Jockey Club Stakes, in which those old opponents, St. Germans and Hurstwood, renew opposition, with Tatra intervening. St. Germans has proved himself the superior of Hurstwood on two occasions, but I am inclined to think that HURSTWOOD will just beat him this afternoon. There will be no Diomedes in the Snailwell Stakes, but Heverswood, who was second to him at Doncaster, runs, and, as the distance will be too short for Twelve Pointer, HEVERSWOOD should win. Golden Fairy, who missed an engagement to-day, may run for the Bentinck Fund Nursery, but I choose the SEAMAID COLT to beat her. COMEDY KING looks best in the Triennial Produce Stakes, and ORNAMENTATION in the Gold Cup at Edinburgh.

LIMERICK.

SILPHO'S NARROW VICTORY.

HOLY FOOKS DISAPPOINTS.

SMALL FIELDS.

Only twenty-seven horses took part in the first day's racing at Greenpark, but though fields were small the sport was by no means uninteresting. In fact, in almost every instance there were excellent finishes. There was a downpour on Tuesday and again during the early hours of yesterday, but happily it ceased long before racing started, and with the help of a strong sun the course dried up fairly well.

Templelyon's 6lb. penalty for his Leopardstown win had little effect on his chance for the opening hurdle race, for which he started favourite. He is just now at the top of his form, and holding the lead throughout he was able to withstand the challenge of Clonlara in the last quarter of a mile. Holy Fooks, who was beaten by Santhome at Limerick Junction last week, was confidently expected to make amends by taking the Autumn Hurdle Plate, but he never seemed to relish the task in hand. After lying behind in the early stages, Canty could not prevail on him to put it in at the critical stage, and Killowen, who was always in front, was able to shake off Empress Royal, who put in a strong challenge in the straight.

Another disappointment was in store for backers over the Stewards' Plate, which was regarded almost in the light of a certainty for Yukon, who had been running well of late. He, however, found one too good for him in Laurence, on whom J. Meany rode a very vigorous finish. Yukon was, perhaps, a bit unlucky to lose, as he was not too well placed in the run home, and, in addition, was inclined to swerve.

That good horse, Silpho, carried his big impost of 12st. 5lb. in the Garryowen Plate to victory, but it was only by the narrowest margin that he achieved it. In the closing stages his jumping was faulty, and a mistake at the last two fences took a lot out of him, and it was only after a terrific finish that he defeated Donyland by a short head. Three moderate horses turned out for the Shannon Plate and the race went to Castle Dodd, who led all the way. There was an excellent windup to the proceedings, when Drifting Prince, Fighting Fit and Taguel had a rare set-to for the three miles steeplechase, and it was a game performance of Drifting Prince, after losing ground at the last fence, to run the other pair out of it. Off 2.1. (Winner trained by R. Dawson.)

Betting—"Sporting Life"—5 to 2 each agst. MOTI MAHAL and Rosehearty, 3 to 1 Booklet, 10 to 1 Pharan, 100 to 7 any other. "Sporting Chronicle"—Same.

Royal Sun (on the right) showed the way to Donnina (in the centre), Pharan (on the extreme left), Herbalist (in the centre), Waterval (on the right), Moti Mahal (on the left), and Rosehearty (on the left), for three furlongs, when Herbalist and Donnina, in close company, forced the pace, pursued by Pharan, Waterval, and Moti Mahal. A hundred yards from home Donnina was done, whereupon Moti Mahal and Waterval challenged Herbalist, the Aga Khan's filly gaining the mastery in the last few strides and winning a thrilling race by a neck; a short head separated second and third. Booklet (a neck away) was fourth, Pharan fifth, Donnina sixth, Royal Sun seventh, Rosehearty eighth, Grand Glacier ninth, and Celibataire last. Time—1 min. 3-5 sec.

Betting—"Sporting Life"—100 to 30 agst. Sosie, 11 to 2 Baton Rouge, 7 to 1 each MAFOOTA and St. Napolean, 100 to 12 Stephanoia, 10 to 1 each Knockgoriff and Shining Spear, 100 to 8 each Issue and London Cry, 100 to 7 any other. "Sporting Chronicle"—Same.

Shining Spear was followed by St. Napolean, Mafoota, Bessborough, Stefanous, and Issue, until half-way across the flat, when St. Napolean went on, just clear of Mafoota, Issue, Bessborough, Baton Rouge, and Shining Spear. At the Bushes Bessborough headed St. Napolean, but was beaten in the next few strides, Mafoota going on second in front of Baton Rouge. In the Dip Baton Rouge raced into the lead, but weakened a hundred yards from home, Mafoota, on the inside, winning by a neck; a head separated second and third. Shining Spear (a head away) was fourth, Issue fifth, Bessborough sixth, London Cry seventh, Knockgoriff eighth, Sosie ninth, and Blue Fairy last.

Off 3.35. (Winner trained by Barling.)

Betting.—"Sporting Life"—3 to 1 agst. Congo, 6 to 1 each Fairy Elf and Morals of Marcus, 100 to 14 Ceramic, 8 to 1 CAPTURE HIM, 100 to 12 each Open Prospect and Fitzroy, 10 to 1 each Dandaloo and Field Argent, 20 to 1 Evana. "Sporting Chronicle"—Same.

Capture Him (in the centre) cut out the work from Fitzroy (on the right), Ceramic (on the left), Congo (on left), Morals of Marcus (on left), Evana, and Open Prospect, to the Bushes, where Morals of Marcus went on third, in front of Fairy Elf and Congo. In the Abingdon Bottom Morals of Marcus and Fitzroy closed with Capture Him, who, however, retained the lead in a strenuous finish, and won by a neck; a dead-heat for second place. Congo was fourth, Field Argent fifth, Evana sixth, Open Prospect seventh, Fairy Elf eighth, and Dandaloo last.

4.0—BOSCAWEN (POST) PRODUCE STAKES of 100 sovs. each. Two years old. 5 f. 134 yds.

Mrs. Whitburn's Iceman, 9-0 ....R. Jones 0
Off 4.3. (Winner trained by B. Jarvis.)

Betting.—"Sporting Life"—13 to 8 on APPLE SAMMY, 3 to 1 agst. Gay Bird, 10 to 1 Helter Skelter, 100 to 8 any other. "Sporting Chronicle"—Same.

Apple Sammy (in the centre) settled down in front of Gay Bird (on the right), Buckler (on the left), Helter Skelter (on the right), and Pantera, and, stalling off the challenge of Helter Skelter a furlong from home, Mr. Hornung's colt won comfortably by a neck; four lengths separated second and third. Pantera was fourth, Buckler fifth, and Flying Spear last.

4.30—77th TRIENNIAL PRODUCE STAKES of 10 sovs. each, with 300 sovs. added, and 100 sovs. for owner at time of entry of dam of winner. 1¼ m.

Won by a short head; three lengths. Right Arm was last.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

The principal feature in to-day's programme will be the contest for the Jockey Club Stakes, for which the field will be a small one, the following being the list of

PROBABLE STARTERS AND JOCKEYS.

HURSTWOOD (Mr. S. Tattersall), 4, 9-7 (Taylor) ....V. Smyth
ST. GERMANS (Lord Astor), 4, 9-4 (Taylor) ....F. Bullock
*JOY RIDER (Lord Rosebery), 3, 8-3 (J. Jarvis) ....C. Elliott
TATRA (Mrs. Harold Cayzer), 3, 7-11 (Gooch) ....F. Fox
*Doubtful runner.

If we accept the form on the Town Moor as correct between the Manton pair, St. Germans should again finish in front of the other with the respective terms 3lb. in his favour this time, though they will be racing right-hand instead of the left, and the run-in three furlongs shorter, a change which suits one as well as the other. Twelve Pointer may wait for the Snailwell Stakes, and the only opponent to the Manton pair may be Tatra. The Bentinck Fund Nursery will assuredly attract an extensive field, especially as the finish occurs in the Abingdon Dip, which will serve those which possess more speed than stamina. There being nothing in the acceptances left above 8st. 7lb., Golden Fairy appears to hold a famous chance. Earl's trio are scratched, and The Sloat at 7st. 9lb. attracts one strongly. Lambton's best (Golden Fairy, perhaps) and Reginald Day's best we like the appearance of, but it is not a race upon which to concentrate for a gamble. We leave it to R. Day's selected and Golden Fairy. Selections:—

Thetford Plate—Sporting Chat; if absent, Florid.
Bentinck Fund Nursery—Golden Fairy, win and place.
Clare Welter—Green Fire, each way.
Jockey Club Stakes—St. Germans.
Wicken Plate—Clecki gelding.
Triennial Stakes—Comedy King.
Snailwell Stakes—Heverswood.

Outside the Railway market, which again attracted great attention, with at one time nearly general further substantial gains, the dealings, especially for local securities, were exceedingly poor and disappointing in volume, with points of weakness as well as strength, occasionally emphasised by the absence of corresponding orders, except at concessions on previous quotations. Government National Loans turned easy on sales of exceptional lots at concessions in the absence of support. British Funds were firm. Banks were almost neglected. There was a better market for Guinness Ord. Shares, with steady investment support and a firm close. Irish Distillery Shares were flat. There was profit-taking in Great Southern Rails, after a buoyant, but uncertain, opening. Very quick movements up or down are usually followed by reactions on profit-taking, and the recent quick rise of 7 to 9 points left a nice profit for those who got in about ten days ago. Great Northern Stocks were well supported, with comparatively little movement.

Dublin United Tramway Ord. Shares declined to a fresh record low point. Dunlop Rubber Ord. were rather harder, but Parent Trust issues were dull. Pim Brothers Ord. Shares were again bid for, but did not offer, even at a recovery on last marking. Tobaccos became a trifle harder. Leaders in this particular market have so established themselves with efficient, zealous management and a strong financial policy that the shares make still a confident appeal to the better-class investor. Signed by Order,
W. F. SCOTT, Secretary.
Northern Banking Company, Limited,
Belfast, 1st October, 1925.

LONDON MOVEMENTS.

There was a little more business passing in the Gilt-edged market yesterday, while a firmer tendency was manifest. Among War Loans the 3½ p.c. at 87½ were ¼ to the good, while the Fives at 102¼ were ⅛ above the overnight level. Funding Loan and Victory Bonds were steady to firm, while Conversion Loans were also without material change. Consols remained at 55½, while Indias and Local Loans were unaltered.

Very little movement was recorded in the Foreign Government Stock market, a generally steady to firm tone being maintained. Turkish 4 p.c. Unified were a firmer market, and an improvement of ¼ was registered to 16¼.

BRITISH RAILS RISING.

A sharp recovery occurred in the Home Rail market and final prices were appreciably higher all round. Great Westerns gained 2 points to 83½, while Midland Ord. at 73½ were also 2 points above the overnight level. North-Eastern 5 p.c. Pref. Ord. gained 1½ points to 55, while the Def. Ord. at 18½ were ¼ higher. Metropolitan Consolidated finished 1½ points up to 65¼, and Districts at 42 were ¼ to the good. Among Southerns, the Pref. Ord. at 73½ were 1½ points better, while the Def. Ord. at 40½ and the "A" Shares at 37½ were both ½ better. Underground Ord. gained ¼ to 2¼, but others were without change.

With the exception of a sharp improvement in Cordoba Centrals, Colonial and Foreign Rails were practically without movement. Cordoba Central Ord. at 18¾ were ½ better, while the 1st Pref. at 65 and the 2nd Pref. at 40½ were 1½ points and 1 point higher respectively.

RUBBER SHARES STRONGER.

There was again an active business in the Rubber Share market yesterday, and, with profit-taking sales not nearly so numerous, the tendency of prices was to improve. Here and there, however, weaker spots were noticeable, and quotations eased the turn. Price movements were fairly numerous, the majority being in favour of holders. A firmer tone was also manifest in the commodity market. Spot rubber hardened to 3s. 5¾d. to 3s. 6d. per pound, while October was quoted at 3s. 4½d. to 3s. 5¼d. per pound. In the share market Anglo-Sumatra at 90s. were 2s. 6d. to the good, while Bah Lias at 58s. 6d. and Batu Tiga at 74s. 9d. were 1s. and 2s. 3d. to the good. Golden Hope gained 10½d. to 47s. 6d. Kasintoe were a firm market at an advance of 2s. 3d. to 41s. 3d. Kuala Lumpur closed 1s. 3d. higher at 98s. 9d., while Langkat Sumatra jumped 1s. 6d. to 51s. Malacca closed at 77s., or a gain of 1s. on the day, while P.P.K. Ceylon at 36s. were also 1s. better. Linggi put on 10½d., while Sumatra Consols at 52s. 9d. were 1s. 3d. up. Tebrau gained 1s. 4½d. to 65s. 1½d. United Sua Betong closed 1s. to the good. Sungei Krian Pref., on the other hand, were an exceptionally weak spot, the final level being 1s. 9d. lower at 60s. 9d. Tandjong dropped 9d., while Serdang Central at 48s. and Sendayan at 50s. 7½d. were 2s. 7½d. and 1s. 1½d. lower respectively. Manchester North Borneo shed 1s. and Membakut 7½d., while Java Amalgamated at 43s. 9d. were 1s. 3d. below the overnight quotation.

OIL SHARES BRIGHTER.

A distinctly brighter tendency developed in the Oil Share market yesterday, and while attention was directed mainly to a few of the leading counters, the improvement in conditions proved welcome to dealers, who have been having a very quiet time of late. Indications were not lacking in the afternoon of Tuesday of a turn for the better, a fact to which attention was drawn in this column yesterday. Best prices were not in all cases held until the close. Among the recognised leaders Shells were most prominent, buying of an influential character being reported. The renewed demand took the price up, and at the close a gain of ⅛ was recorded. Royal Dutch also showed to much better advantage, the shares being bid up to 31⅛, and that this price was not held is attributable to the fact that selling was encountered in the afternoon on New York account. Nevertheless, the shares finished with an improvement of ⅛. Venezuelans provided nothing of outstanding interest. At the outset a demand was experienced for British Controlled, but there were always plenty of shares available, and at the close no change was recorded.

TEA SHARES WEAKER.

A distinctly easier tendency characterised dealings in the Tea Share market yesterday, while the volume of business put through remained on a small scale. Price movements were not numerous. Assam Company firmed up slightly to 44s. 1½d., or 3d. better, while Chulsa at 48s. 6d. marked an improvement of 1s. 9d. Darjeeling put on 9d., while Imperial at 45s. were a similar amount higher. Anglo-Ceylon, on the other hand, dropped 1s. 4½d. to 45s. 1½d., while Assam Frontier New at 31s. 9d. were 1s. down. Bowlana eased 6d. and Assam Cons. 9d., while Chubwa closed 1s. 6d. lower. Cons. Tea and Lands went back to 29⅛, or ⅛ down on the day, while Dooars shed 1s. 3d. to 66s. 6d. Empire were a weak spot, and here a decline of 2s. 1½d. was recorded to 59s. 9d. Majuli and Moabund both lost 1s. 3d., while Singlo at 61s. 7½d. were 10½d. down.

INDUSTRIALS IDLE.

Dealers in the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday reported an idle session, though a rather steadier tendency was observable in one or two directions. What business was passing was confined mostly to a few specialities. Hind and Hardy Old Shares were quoted ex. rights at 45s., while the New were called ¼-⅛ premium. Among other Silk Shares, Courtaulds met with renewed support, and further improved to 6⅛, though Wardle and Davenports receded to 3⅞ and Grouts to 59s. 6d. Rayon Def. were flat at 4s. 6d. Bradford Dyers again provided the feature in Textiles, and further recovered to 90s., another 1s. up. Otherwise movements were mostly unimportant, though Fine Spinners Prefs. developed weakness, losing 9d. at 19s. 3d. Dyestuffs and the Prefs. both shed 3d. to 3s. 9d. and 9s. 9d. respectively. Bovril Def came on offer and gave way to 44s. 4½d. Schweppes Def. eased to 34s. 9d. Breweries generally displayed strength. Watney Def. held their ground at 369½, business being recorded at up to 371. Allsopp issues continued in request, the Ord. rising to 1⅛, another ⅛ up, while the Prefs. put on 1 to 94½. Distillers, however, relapsed to 2⅛, ⅛ down. Wireless issues were rather dull, Marconis losing 1s. 3d. at 1¹¹⁄₁₆ and the Prefs. ⅛ at 1⅛. Iron and Coal Shares became rather steadier. B.S.A. rallied to 14s., Vickers to 6s. 9d., and Stewards and Lloyds Def. to 31s. 9d. Shipping securities remained steady at previous levels. There was a little doing in Motors, about the only quotable change being a rise of 6d. in Napiers to 37s. 6d.

A feature of the Land section was the buoyancy of Sudan Plantations on rumours of a share bonus. After rising to 8⅝ at one time, the shares finished slightly below that figure at 8½, but ⅛ better on the day, a big business taking place. Bank Shares displayed irregularity. Insurances exhibited no decided tendency. In the Tobacco group, Carreras issues found fresh support, which left the Ord. ⅛ better at 11⅜, while the "A" Shares gained ¼ at 11½. Imperials met with a small demand, and hardened to 99s., and Canadas moved up to 26s. 1½d. Godfrey Phillips, however, receded to 65s. and United South lost ⅛ to 4⅛. Changes in the Miscellaneous trading list were trifling. Cement Prefs. were wanted, and gained 3d. at 16s. 6d., but falls of that much occurred in Brunner-Monds to 36s. 6d., and in James Finlays to 73s. 9d. Dunlops were irregular, but Parent Trust Def. relapsed to 1⅜, or ⅛ down.

DUBLIN PRICE CHANGES.

GUINNESS BETTER. GREAT SOUTHERN RAILS UNDER BEST. TOBACCOS AND COURTAULDS BETTER. DUBLIN TRAMS LOWER.

Government National Loan fell ⅛ to 95⅛ and Compensation 5 p.c. Stock 1¼ to 91¼.

In Banks, Munster and Leinsters fell ⅛ to 7¼ for an odd lot. Westminsters quoted 18¼.

Among Breweries, Guinness Ord. closed ⅛ better at 65⅜, after the main business was done at 65¼, but the Pref. eased ⅛ to 11¹¹⁄₁₆. Dublin Distillers Pref. gave way 5s. to 50s., and J. Power and Son Pref. remain on offer at 13s., or 1s. under last business done level.

In Home Rails, Great Southern issues opened apparently buoyant, but closed well under best. The Ord. opened 2 higher at 25, and then realised 24⅞, 24, and finally 23, thus showing finally no change. The Pref. rose 1 to 31, but the Debs. fell 1 to 58, while the Guaranteed, having opened 1¼ higher at 41, fell back to 40. Great Northern was firm at 28¼, while the Pref. rose ½ to 40 and the Debs. ½ to 60.

In Trams, Dublin United Ord. fell ¼ to 5¼.

Dunlop Rubber Ord. realised 23s. 6d., 23s. 4½d. Parent Trust Ord. fell 3d. to 20s. for a broken lot.

LONDON MINING MARKET DULL.

CAPE SELLING "KAFFIRS."

The Mining Market spent a rather idle day, and as regards Kaffirs, the fact that the Cape was an early seller of many of its specialities created a feeling of depression all round. Even the demand from Paris for certain favourities failed to check the downward trend of values, and it was not until late in the day that any improvement was witnessed, when the Cape became less aggressive. Union Corporation, Modderfontein, and Llanglaagte Estate managed to resist the general tendency, but West Rand Consolidated suffered rather severely from profit-taking on a rather large scale, and Generals were easier, although the company has declared an interim dividend of 1s. per share. Rhodesians were in no better plight than their neighbours, except that there was some nibbling at Bwana M'Kubwa, Rhodesia Copper, and one or two other low-priced descriptions. Chartered were dullish, and Cam and Motors, after being in request on the latest developments, relapsed in the later dealings. Rhodesia and General Asbestos kept steady, as did also Shamva, the latter on the news that in the incline shaft the thirty feet of ore exposed averages 5 dwt., the ore still continuing. The French demand left its mark on the Diamond descriptions, among which De Beers, Jagersfontein, and Cons. African Selection Trust were all better, but Cons. Diamonds were on offer and relapsed. The price of tin rose to £266 12s. 6d. per ton, but the share market could hardly be described as comfortable. Among Coppers, Rio Tinto were at one time strong on Paris buying, but when the demand ceased the price fell back. The dividend announcement is expected at any moment. Waihi were easier on the meeting at which the proposed return of capital—5s. per share—was approved. Burmahs were a trifle lower. Closing prices:—

The Bank of England sold £21,000 of bar gold, and exported 10,000 sovereigns to Argentina and 25,000 sovereigns to India, making a total efflux for the week ended Wednesday, September 30, of £249,000.

The principal movement in the foreign exchanges was a sharp recovery in Belgian francs, a movement probably connected with reports of borrowing by that country in this market. The quotation dropped nearly 1¼f. to 109.65. French francs were slightly worse at over 102½. Pesetas gave way rather sharply, lire were worse at 119¼, and Holland, Sweden and Rumania quoted rather more for sterling. Norwegian kroner further recovered, the quotation dropping to little over 24, and the Danish currency further improved to about 20. Austrian schillings and Greek drachmae were rather dearer. The sterling dollar rate fell back ⅛ to 4.84⅞. South American currencies were inclined to be dull. Among the Eastern exchanges, the Hong Kong quotation further declined to 2s. 4½d., and the yen reacted to 1s. 8⅛d.

Despite its being the last day of the month, conditions remained very easy in Lombard street yesterday, with funds in plentiful supply. Treasury bill payments were rather heavy, and calls on new issues amounted to over £1,500,000, against which disbursements, however, apparently had no effect, and short loans were offering at 3 to 3¼ p.c., with higher rates occasionally paid. No borrowing was necessary at the Bank of England. Weekly fixtures were continued at 3½ p.c. In the discount market there was a good demand for December bills at 3½ to 3⁹⁄₁₆ p.c., November being 3⁹⁄₁₆ to 3½ p.c., and Januarys 3⅝ p.c. Treasury bills maturing within the year were also favoured at 3⅝ to 3⁹⁄₁₆ p.c., the banks being buyers at those rates.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

ROBINSON AND CLEAVER.—The report of the directors, to be presented to the annual ordinary general meeting of the ordinary shareholders, to be held at Belfast on Friday, October 9, 1925, states that the balance of profit on trading carried to profit and loss account for the past twelve months—including a sum of £23,392 8/2 brought forward from the previous year's account—amounted to £77,803 19/5, from which have to be deducted income tax, directors' fees, fees of auditors and Debenture Stock trustees, etc., as well as provision for depreciation of fixtures, plant, etc., sinking fund instalment as against leasehold properties, and Debenture interest calculated to 31st July, 1925, amounting together to a total sum of £15,781 16/3, leaving a balance of £62,022 3/2. The directors recommend that this should be appropriated in the manner following:—Dividend on Preference shares already paid to 1st April, 1925, £5,164 16/10; provision for further dividend on Preference shares to 31st July, 1925, viz., four months at 5 per cent., less income tax, £2,666 13/4; interim dividend on Ordinary shares at 2½ per cent. free of income tax already paid, £6,250; further dividend on Ordinary shares at 2½ per cent. free of income tax (making 5 per cent. free of tax for the year), £6,250; reserve account, £10,000; staff benevolent fund, £1,000; balance carried forward to next account, £30,690 13/-. Three of the directors—Mr. W. T. Hamilton, Lieutenant-Colonel A. S. Cleaver, and Mr. J. F. Cleaver—retire by rotation at this meeting, and are eligible for re-election.

ALLIANCE INVESTMENT CO.—Interim dividends for the half-year ending October 15 at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum on the Preferred Stock, and at rate of 5 per cent. per annum on the Deferred Stock.

ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS, LTD. — Interim dividend on the Deferred Shares for the quarter ending September 30, 1925, of 2/- per share—that is at the rate of 40 p.c. per annum (less tax).

CLYDESDALE INVESTMENT.—Directors have decided to convert, as from October 1, the 25,000 shares of £10 each into £150,000 4½ p.c. Cum. Preference Stock and £100,000 Ordinary Stock. Dividend at the rate of 5 p.c. per annum (less tax) from respective dates of payment of instalments.

CARLTON MAIN COLLIERY.—Interim dividend of 2½ p.c. (free of tax).

FLEMING AND FERGUSON.—Dividend of 10/- per share (less tax) on Ord. Shares.

GENERAL MINING AND FINANCE CORPORATION.—Interim dividend of 5 per cent., less tax, on the reduced and re-numbered share capital of £1,015,959.

GRAIN ELEVATOR ESTATE.—Dividend for year of 1/11 per share.

GOODE, DURRANT AND CO.—Dividend at the rate of 10 p.c. per annum on Ord. Shares, including interim dividend paid in April last.

HENDERSON'S TRANSVAAL ESTATES.—Dividend of 2½ per cent., less tax, in respect of the year ended March 31, 1925; also an interim dividend of 2½ per cent., less tax, in respect of the year ending March 31, 1926. Dividends to be calculated on the amounts for the time being paid up or credited as paid up on the shares.

MANOR POWIS COAL.—Interim dividend of 1/- per share (less tax) on Ord. Shares.

RIO NEGRO (ARGENTINA) LAND.—Dividend for year of 10 p.c. (less tax); carrying forward, £28,216.

SUNGEI KRIAN RUBBER.—Interim dividends in respect of the current financial year:—9½ per cent. actual on the 6 per cent. Pref. shares, making 12½ per cent. to date, and 12½ per cent. actual on the Ordinary shares, tax deducted.

SUNGEI SALAK RUBBER.—Interim dividend of 12½ per cent.

STUTTAFORD AND CO.—A further dividend on Ord. Shares of 6½ p.c.

SEDGELEY F.M.S.—Interim dividend of 10 p.c. actual (less tax).

TRAFFORD PARK ESTATES.—Dividend at rate of 5 per cent. per annum.

TALAWAKELLE ESTATES. — Interim dividend of 5 p.c. (less tax) on Ord. Shares.

TYSPANE TEA.—Interim dividend of 5 p.c. on Ord. Shares (less tax).

W. AND A. McARTHUR, LTD.—Directors announce that they regret they do not feel justified in paying the interim dividend, which is usually paid on October 31 on the 7 p.c. Cum. Preference Shares for the half-year ended July 31 last. The trading results for the first half of the current year showed a loss, and the appeal against the claim by the Federal Taxation Department for war-time profits tax has not yet been decided.

DUBLIN GAS COMPANY.

SUCCESSFUL HALF-YEAR.

THE SHANNON SCHEME.

Mr. Francis J. Dickens, J.P., Chairman, presided at the ordinary half-yearly meeting of the shareholders in the Alliance and Dublin Gas Consumers' Company yesterday, in the offices of the company, D'Olier street.

The other directors present were:—Mr. Augustine Bond, Mr. William H. Davies, Mr. J. MacVeagh, and Mr. Joseph X. Murphy.

The meeting confirmed the recommendation of the directors that declaration of the maximum statutory dividend on the Consolidated Ordinary Stocks of the company at the rate of 6¼ per cent., less income tax, be paid to the shareholders.

The Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report of the directors for the past six months, said that the outstanding features of the business were an increase of no less than 12 per cent. in the total quantity of gas sold, and the maintenance of the unaccounted-for gas at a figure comparing very favourably with other undertakings.

THE ELECTRICITY RIVAL.

A commencement, he said, had been made with the Government's electrical scheme, and apparently the truth was that electricity, being unable, in the face of free competition with gas, to make the headway it desired, had now to secure financial assistance from the tax-payer. As that principle had been adopted, surely it was only fair and equitable that the claim of the gas industry for national assistance should be recognised to recompense ... for the loss of profits which was incurred during the war, owing to the operation of obsolete sliding scales under which gas companies were compelled to work.

GAS A KEY INDUSTRY.

It was, perhaps, not recognised that the gas industry was one of the most important key industries in this country. It supplied a commodity of prime necessity, and of common use in the vast majority of domestic homes. It provided by-products of the greatest value to the country—e.g., smokeless fuel in the form of coke, tar and its numeratives, such as road tar, creosote, etc. It was the basis of the aniline dye industry, and it was essential to a very large number of trades and industries throughout the country for industrial purposes, and it provided a large range of necessary disinfectants now in daily use.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURE.

In the accounts it would be observed that the capital expenditure on this occasion was heavier than usual, which indicated to some extent the extension which was taking place in the company's business. During the past half-year the company had secured 1,587 new consumers, while no less than 1,017 new services were laid, and 1,609 new cooking, and 674 further heating stoves were sent out, quite a large proportion of which were actually sold outright to consumers.

THE PRICE OF GAS.

They hoped that if the fall in residual pirces was not too severe, it might be possible during the next year to effect a further reduction in the price of gas. At any rate, no effort would be spared to avoid the necessity of increasing the price, as so many of the largest undertakings on the other side of the Channel had been obliged to do. The total cost of distribution of gas was larger by nearly £2,000. The net receipts, owing to the largely increased sales of gas were larger by nearly £18,000. Briefly stated, the income for the half-year was larger by £21,434, whilst expenditure had increased to the extent of £14,789. Thus, they were enabled to carry into net revenue a profit larger by £6,645. After paying the dividend there would be carried to the next account £10,000.

Referring to the question of double taxation, he said that some progress had been made towards the settlement of it. The Chancellor of the Exchequer had recently informed them that negotiations covering the whole field of double taxation between Great Britain and the Irish Free State were proceeding, and it was hoped that the new arrangements would take effect as from the beginning of the coming financial year. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Davies seconded the motion, and the report, after some congratulatory remarks, by Mr. R. J. Kelly and Captain Purcell, was adopted.

A resolution authorising the payment of the dividend of 6¼ per cent. on and after October 10th was passed. A vote of thanks was also passed to the officials of the company for their zealous services.

LEASE 150 YEARS FROM 1st MAY, 1899, AT £38 5s. 0d. YEARLY.

Per Instructions of the OWNER, who is retiring from business, after many years' successful trading.

This is a high-class Property, in which a very extensive business has been conducted for a great number of years. It possesses many advantages, and is worthy of inspection by intending buyers of s property. A resident proprietor could enhance the already extensive business and conduct same at minimum expense, the rent, licence, and rates being a comparatively small figure.

Further particulars and Cards for Inspection may be had from the AUCTIONEER.
Conditions of Sale from
Messrs. CARTAN O'MEARA, CUSSEN and KIERAN, Solicitors, 27 South Frederick street.

AN UNIQUE LICENSED PREMISES,

AND ADJOINING SHOP, No 11.
No. 12 IS HELD FOR 99 YEARS FROM 1896, SUBJECT TO £40 0s. 0d.
No. 11 IS HELD FOR EVER, SUBJECT TO £17 2s. 10d.
FRONTAGE 55 FEET. DEPTH 120 FEET.
Per Instructions of Mr. Michael Ryan.

The above Premises have recently been rebuilt at considerable expense, and occupy a very prominent position in this important thoroughfare. The business portion consists of compact Bar, elegantly appointed with mahogany and mirrored fittings, with two terrazo porch entrances, private smokeroom off same, airy cellar for draught beer and stout, with well lighted vaults under pathway and street; concrete floors throughout; up-to-date sanitary accommodation. A special feature is the return building, extending to Finn's Lane, which contains whiskey and wine store, bottling store with shelving for 150 gross, paper loft. Spacious garage, with wide entrance to Finn's Lane, which has roomy and convenient access to South Richmond street.

The Dwelling, which has private entrance, contains drawingroom, diningroom, three large bedrooms, kitchen, close range, hot trough, copper cylinder, and bathroom complete.

The adjoining Shop and Parlour, No. 11, is at present vacant, and, if not required by purchaser, is estimated to produce a sum sufficient to discharge the rent, licence and taxes of both premises. There is electric light throughout, also telephone.

This is a particularly attractive Property, and such as is very rarely offered to public competition. An inspection of the Property will clearly show its many advantages, and that the Vendor spared neither money nor attention to make perfect an establishment in which a successful trading has been carried on by him for the past thirty years.

The Premises may be viewed between the hours of 11 and 1 and 3 and 6 p.m. on production of Card to View.
Further particulars and Cards for Inspection may be had from the AUCTIONEER,
